

TAX BILL COVERS TWO LAPS FIRST DAY OF CONGRESS

Offered; Referred; Back Again; Debate Today.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—[Special.]—The House of Representatives today cleared the tax bill for consideration of the Senate. The bill, which was introduced by Representative Green (Rep., Iowa), chairman of the ways and means committee, and the immediate reporting back of the measure by the committee.

Mr. Green presented a formal report explaining the features of the bill in detail. Accompanying the committee report were "additional views" by Representative Rainey (Dem., Ill.) and Representative Hull (Dem., Tenn.), the two Democrats dissenting from the theories on which the bill was drawn.

Mr. Green expressed the belief that it would be unsafe to reduce revenues more than $325,000,000, the estimated loss for the calendar year 1926 under the bill.

The new normal and surtax brackets have been carefully graded, Mr. Green says.

"All classes of taxpayers have received a substantial reduction, the gradations in rates are as regular as is practicable, and the schedule on the whole is well balanced," says Mr. Green.

Organization of the wet forces of the house with a view to forcing the adoption, if possible, of the amendment to the federal dry law will be perfected at a conference to be held within the next ten days.

At the last session the wet bloc of the house was made up of sixty members. The claim was made in a group that met at noon Friday, that the bloc will be stronger in the present house.

Two measures relating to prohibition were introduced in the house today by Representative Hill. One of them proposes to repeal the eighteenth amendment by constitutional convention in the various states. The other authorizes amendments to the national prohibition act to provide for state local option. Section one of this bill permits each state to define the meaning of the words "intoxicating liquors" as used

PENSIONS DECLINE; 13,002 FEWER ON ROLLS LAST YEAR

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—[Special.]—The department of the interior today disclosed that the number of war pensioners declined from 225,539 to 212,537, a reduction of 13,002, during last year. The total paid out for pensions during the year was $217,150,612, compared with $229,994,777 in 1924.

The total paid out under the pension system, which dates from 1790, counting this year, has been $7,055,502,010, of which $4,613,214,950 has been paid out on account of the civil war and $2,442,287,060 on account of the war with Spain.

There were more widows than soldiers on the pension rolls last year. By classes the numbers on the rolls were 244,657 soldiers, 260,382 widows, 2,821 minor children, 839 helpless children, 4,105 dependent relatives, and 223 nurses.

There are yet 17 soldiers of the Mexican war and 21 widows of the war of 1812 on the rolls.

In the eighteenth amendment, and each state is empowered to enforce its own laws on the subject within its jurisdiction.

Maj. Gen. Harry Taylor, chief of engineers, stated today in his annual report to the secretary of war that the government project for deepening the channel of the Illinois river between La Salle and the Mississippi is now 95 per cent completed.

No mention was made of the report just completed by Maj. Putnam, district engineer at Chicago, on the feasibility and cost of further improving the Illinois river so as to hurry the date when Chicago will be linked with the Atlantic via the Great Lakes to the Gulf waterway.

It was stated, however, that owing to the work that has been done on the Mississippi river, there is now, with rare exceptions, a good navigable channel at all stages, with a depth of nine feet or more over a width of at least 350 feet for a distance of 541 miles below Cairo. There is a much greater depth from that point to the gulf.

The army will marshal twenty of its high ranking officers, including thirteen generals, at the court martial of Col. William Mitchell tomorrow in an effort to rebut his testimony offered that, so far as the air service is concerned, the war department is grossly incompetent.

The navy rebuttal of a similar charge ended today with the testimony of four witnesses.

The fact that the war department has called as its witnesses the chiefs of practically every section of the service, including Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, air service chief, is taken as evidence of the importance of the department attaches to the questions raised in the court martial. Brig. Gen. James E. Fechet, who succeeded Mitchell as assistant chief of the air service, is another called as a witness.

2 Cops Accused of Failing to Prosecute Court Case

Capt. Luke Garrick of Town Hall station announced last night that he will place charges of neglect of duty against Policemen Andrew Klerman and John Stapleton, who failed to appear in court yesterday against seven women and a man who were arrested for gambling in an apartment at 4753 Sheridan road.

Tie Up Three Landis Award Jobs, Loop, North Side, Too

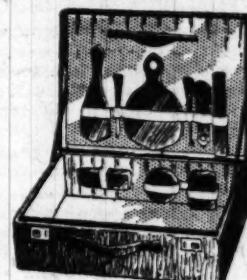

Officials of the Building Trades council have started a campaign to eliminate Landis award contractors from doing work in the local building industry. It was learned last night. To date the union officials have called strikes on three buildings under construction where the work was being done part union and part nonunion. These jobs are the Cohan theater and the Terminal and Sheridan motion picture theaters; the latter are being erected by the Ascher brothers.

PARENTS CLASH ON ROGERS PARK SCHOOL PROJECT

Cheers, Cheers of Factions
Disturb Hearing.

Boos, boos and catcalls created a near riot at a public hearing on the Rogers Park school controversy before the board of education yesterday. The disturbance was caused by opposing factions of north side parents, many of whom disagree over the proposed erection of a junior high school at Bosworth and North Shore avenues. As speakers from one side rose to speak, the other side jeered and booed, jamming the board room to capacity, alternately jeering and cheering approval. At times the jeers and cheers were indistinguishable.

Threat of Violence.
It seemed for a moment that pugilistic tactics actually were going to be brought into play. In the course of heated argument, Roger P. Minwegen, 1760 Grandview avenue, chief spokesman for the group seeking an elementary school on the disputed site, threatened that Col. Edward B. Elliott, president of the board, and Joseph Kennedy, assistant superintendent, had ordered junior high schools "an experiment."

Col. Elliott, from his chair among the committee members, quickly but quietly denied the statement. But Mr. Minwegen, a six-footer, strode over to the speaker's table. "I did not say anything of the kind," he said, shaking a warning finger at Minwegen. At that point, Theophilus Schmid, chairman, pounded for order and the assistant superintendent retired to his seat.

Hits at Trustee.
Another high point in the discussion came when Minwegen accused Mrs. T. S. Hefferan, a trustee, of asking representatives of parent-teachers' associations to come to the meeting to speak for the junior high school. Mrs. Hefferan replied that she had been misunderstood.

Proceeding the meeting both factions of the controversy had presented petitions, each with several thousand signatures, setting forth their sides of the case. One group argued that an elementary school had been promised by the board and is necessary to prevent small children from going long distances across car tracks to school. The other faction declares that a $1,000,000 junior high would be an asset to the neighborhood.

Following the debate, Mr. Schmid stated that the committee would consider all the testimony and try to reach a fair decision. The matter will be reconsidered at a meeting a week from Friday, he said.

AIRPLANES BRING BANKS CASH AS RUNS THREATEN

Humboldt, Ia., Dec. 7.—Fearing runs on the two other banks at Eagle Grove following the closing of the Citizens' State bank, airplanes from Cedar Rapids arrived with surplus funds.

Ernest J. Thompson, assistant cashier of the Citizens' State bank for several years, made a confession to the state bank examiners that he had embezzled more than $235,000 of the bank's money. He was placed in the county jail at Clarion.

Some time ago Thompson was called before the officers of the bank and asked to account for large sums of money which he had been spending. He had recently purchased farms and stocked them with pure bred stock, erected fine farm buildings, built a $10,000 home with every luxury, and purchased a high priced car for his wife.

Thompson confessed to have taken $30,000. He swore that this covered the deficiency. Further investigation revealed a far greater shortage, however.

Gifts for Men

Most men, among the many who have use for them, are positively fascinated by the precise efficiency of fine tools, by their exact adaptation to their purposes, by their clean neatness of design.

To men alike who use them, occasionally or continually, there is a pride and a joy in the possession of tools of sterling quality, and for this reason, thousands of Stebbins tools, as well as cutlery, pocket knives, carving sets, razors and electrical goods, are purchased each year as Christmas Gifts.

For some of your men folk undoubtedly you could shop to no better advantage than at Stebbins'.

SUGGESTS FOUR NEW THROUGH STREET ROUTES

Four north and south routes to give quick and easy access to all parts of the city will be recommended to the city council as part of a system of through streets, Ald. Charles S. Eaton (5th) announced yesterday.

A route using State street, thence into South Park avenue and continuing on South Park way into Grand boulevard will be recommended. The next thoroughfare to the west will extend from the city limits on the south connecting with Sheridan road on the north. It includes Loomis street, Ashland avenue, back to Loomis street, Sheffield avenue, and thence to Sheridan road.

Western avenue will be designated as a through street and will serve as a route from the south to the north of the city by using Oakley boulevard and Leavitt streets at points where traffic will be facilitated.

The route furthest west contemplates a north and south through route by the use of Crawford avenue, Homan avenue, and Kimball avenue.

Maharajah Puts Objectors to His Polo Trip in Jail

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The return of the Maharajah of Jodpur from his polo trip to England was marked by fresh orders for the arrest of the workers' committee who had protested at his departure against intruding the control of the state's Premier Sir Sukhdev. The workers charged Sir Sukhdev was guilty of misconduct with their wives and daughters, some of whom were rescued by force from the Maharajah's bungalow. As soon as the Maharajah left the deputation was arrested and exiled. The term of exile ending, they returned to the capital, where the populace gave them a great ovation.

GIVE LOOP MOVIE 24 HOURS TO OBEY FIRE ORDINANCE

Mayor Dever, asserting that 200 motion picture theater owners named in complaints by Fire Commissioner Joseph F. Bernard Balaban of Balaban & Katz, owners of the theater, promised to comply within the time limit. Four policemen and two firemen were stationed in the lobby last night to make sure that waiting crowds were kept down to a number that could be readily cleared out in case of fire.

WOMAN FIGHTS DIVORCE GIVEN MATE IN MEXICO

Doesn't Know Ex-School
Head Is Wed Again.

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.

How good is a Mexican divorce? Is it good enough to permit the man who has been granted one to marry another woman? Or is he facing trouble when the mother of his children sees him for separate maintenance and declines to recognize the second marriage?

Here is the first voice of the triangle—the first wife's: Mrs. Laura Altheim Glamore, 6625

Greenwood avenue, yesterday, through her attorney, Walter A. Murray, filed a suit for separate maintenance against Otis W. Glamore, former principal of the Wentworth high school, Calumet City.

Her bill names one woman, hints at others, and says that Glamore, whom she married on Nov. 25, 1912, was a school executive for fourteen years.

Doesn't Know of Marriage. Mrs. Glamore is tall, dark, quite slender; and there are lines about her mouth and between her eyes as she discusses the suit.

She charges that Florence Nichols, until last night a teacher in the Bowen High school, is her rival. She says that for four years the chasm between herself and husband has been widening, but she did not know last night that he and Miss Nichols were married on Nov. 28 at Laporte, Ind.

There are two boys, Otis Lowell, 11, and James Herbert, 6, and it is for their support, Mrs. Glamore says, that she is suing.

Now Glamore tells his story, as he discusses with William Scott Stewart of Stewart & O'Brien, his lawyers, the authenticity of his Mexican divorce.

Husband's Side of It. "Four years ago," the tall, 37 year old twice wedded former school head says, as he plops his fingers through his graying hair, "four years ago—in 1921—our troubles began—all because of my wife's jealousy of the women teachers in my school. When I saw our paths had fallen apart I asked her to divorce me. But that was two years before Miss Nichols came to the Wentworth school.

"My first wife's charges about Miss Nichols—now Mrs. Glamore—are unjustified, as I can prove when the case comes up for hearing before Judge Wells the first Monday in January.

"When Mrs. Glamore discovered that I loved Miss Nichols I quit the Wentworth school, as I had quit my home a year before, to avoid a scandal. Then she refused to give me a divorce, and I decided to go to Mexico to get one."

Mexican Divorce Procedure. He did. The notice, in Spanish, which was mailed to Mrs. Glamore, sets forth the provisions of the law of conjugal relations of the state of Morelos, Mexico. It is dated Cuernavaca, the capital, Oct. 7, 1925, and states that Otis W. Glamore, who, in February, 1918, changed to that surname from the name of Glamorey, had "experienced incompatibility" in his domestic relations, and therefore sought a divorce.

And since section 80 of the law "permits the granting of a divorce with or without cause," the notice said, the decree was thereupon entered.

The third side of the triangle, Florence Nichols, is the daughter of Dr.

Charles L. Nichols, 7957 St. Lawrence avenue. She was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1922. Last night she resigned from the faculty of Bowen High school, whence she went after leaving Calumet City.

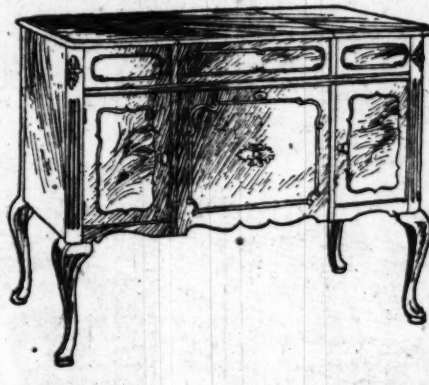

She felt it unfortunate that Glamore yesterday also left the position he has had since last February with the Ford Motor company at 12500 Torrence avenue. She is 22 and blonde, but her pretty blue eyes mirror worry.

Why the Christmas Club Is Worth While

In Chicago, the Christmas Savings Club has become so popular that there are few banks that don't give this service. In this bank we have paid out $380,000 this year.

The surprising thing about the Christmas Clubs is that a large percentage of the members don't use their funds for buying gifts at all. They bought them before the club money was due! And these people are always the first to join the next year's club. The money they draw goes into their regular savings accounts, or pays the taxes, or buys some things for the home.

People use the Christmas Savings Club as a moral support. Every one expects to give at Yuletide. Unless we prepare, our fear is that we won't be able to give as much as we want to. But just as soon as we've made our first payment to the Christmas Club, we have the assurance that we will have something at gift time, and with each additional payment that confidence deepens. It is characteristic of human nature that when we prepare in one direction, we also prepare in others. Knowing how much money we shall have to spend the first week in December, when the club closes, we plan our list of presents far ahead, and then proceed to buy them in September and October out of current expense money.

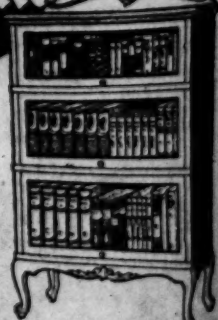

It's worth while joining the Christmas Club.

THE PORT OF CHICAGO.

It is 262 years now since Marquette and Joliet followed the Mississippi waterway to Chicago. The city has just memorialized their courage and devotion. It is an opportune time to consider some of the implications of Chicago's geographical position on the lakes and at the upper end of the riverway, for it was exactly that coincidence which led Marquette and Joliet here. The commerce of a continent has followed them.

Marquette came back a year later, in 1674, and built a rude hut somewhere near the site of the Wrigley building. Later a trading post grew up in the neighborhood of Marquette's camp on the river. The river was the port and it accounted successively for the trading post, the village, and the city. The Chicago river harbor was the most important single element in the city's commercial development before the fire of 1871. The river was crowded with shipping. To have shut the river off from the lake with fixed bridges would have been to strangle the city's economic life.

The war department at Washington still thinks of the river as Chicago's harbor, although a revolution has taken place in Chicago's economic life since the days of the lumber schooners and the grain carriers. We still live and grow through our strategic position with respect to lake shipping, but our port is no longer the river. The war department's attitude toward Chicago is not only unsympathetic and unimaginative but it is even unintelligent, in so far as it refuses to accept the changed status of the river. It is ridiculous to think, as the engineers at Washington do with their maps before them, of tying up ships to Chicago's finest streets, although our own plan commission erred in the same direction when it made provision for extensive dock facilities on the new South Water street. The fact is that practically all of Chicago's river frontage which is not now occupied by the railroads is far too valuable for use as docks. The docks belong elsewhere than in the center of the city.

The engineering department at Washington seems unaware of the changes in Chicago's life. That is the trouble with absentee management of our affairs. If the department were located out here it would be apparent to its chiefs, as it must be to any man of normal vision on the spot, that Chicago does not need the river for docks; our harbor extends from Milwaukee to Michigan City. The Tribune itself wrote more than half of its water-borne paper into the Milwaukee harbor, although the Municipal pier is virtually at our door. Besides Milwaukee we have Racine, Kenosha, Waukegan, the Municipal pier, South Chicago, Indiana Harbor, Gary, and Michigan City. At any of these points or all of them freight destined for Chicago or for transfer to railroad lines here can be handled economically. When the new Illinois waterway is completed the exchange of goods between lake and river vessels will be accomplished in the Calumet district, presumably in Lake Calumet. The river to rail transfer will be made around Joliet. Ideally, the river harbor ought to be in the Lockport area, but practically it will not be developed there, we expect, because the Lockport area is under municipal control. Accordingly, its development will quite probably lag behind that at Lake Joliet, where private enterprise will be unrestricted. River commerce destined for Chicago itself will be unloaded along the drainage canal north of Summit, where there is ample room for industrial development and the nature of the soil makes the digging of slips an easy matter.

All this is plain to Chicago business men and ought to be equally plain to the war department. Chicago will suffer from departmental shortsightedness unless the city manages in some way to make its needs and its destiny clear to the engineering officers who find it their duty to obstruct our development.

THE LA FOLLETTERS.

The La Follette irregulars in congress intend to remain and be as irregular as possible. In the house they did not vote for Nicholas Longworth for speaker. They had their own candidate. They do not want places in the Republican organization. They are off in a bunch.

They could not have a real place in a political organization because they lack the principles of such organizations. Their ideas can do for a group but not a party. It must be a group so small as to be dictated to by one man or so small that it can contain persons who think alike. It does not give a hang for the other fellow's ideas and, of course, will not compromise with him to reach a middle ground.

Popular government means compromise. A great party represents the common ground where great numbers of people can find themselves sufficiently in agreement to act together. In such an agreement it is impossible for each person to have his own way. The more you reject compromise the more you walk alone unless you are successful in issuing dictation. The La Follette assume that they are totally right and the other fellows totally wrong. They do not get anywhere in popular government because as a small minority they reject anything except complete control and as soon as popular government accepts dictation and rejects compromise it ceases to be a popular government.

It may fall far short of ideals in its compromise.

but it can work. A good stiff opposition is beneficial in most instances. It is not so good when an organization is having things too easy with the steam roller, but the La Follette opposition is too narrow and self-centered and dictatorial to try to do anything except get the works in a hole in the road.

CHICAGO MILK.

However sound or unsound the legalities of Chicago's milk situation may be, it will be agreed by the householders that conditions which deprive them of choice in buying milk for their children and themselves are as unreasonable as Bedlam. There is milk free from tuberculosis in the state all about them, but their law in effect tells them that, although they may get potatoes wherever they want to buy them, they cannot contract for milk as they may desire to do and they can't even say that they won't buy milk if it comes from a diseased cow.

We advise such as can get away from this, but we realize that it is hard to do. The local companies are willing to furnish a supply from sound cows if they can get away from the law that downstate legislators handed the city, but if other companies tried to enter Chicago with a pure milk supply there'd be a riot. It is all a high lighted illustration of how a mass of citizenship can be imposed upon, and it may be a good thing that a case affecting all the people should come along to show what attends the loss of political rights.

We could cry "nullification of the state constitution" in ears which would not hear, but when it takes the form of milk from diseased cows it begins to mean something.

HOLLOW TILE.

Mayor Dever has renewed his demand for a revision of the building code to permit the use of hollow tile and other substitutes for brick in retaining walls. The council committee on building has responded by appointing a subcommittee to study the technical aspects of the question and draft a hollow tile ordinance for early submission to the council.

Last spring the council spent a good deal of time climbing the hill and sliding back again, and finally postponed action "until the autumn." The mayor has at last succeeded in stirring the aldermen into new activity.

If hollow tile could be substituted in certain types of retaining walls for brick, the building costs of this city could be reduced $10,000,000 a year, architects have estimated, with no increase in fire risk. The saving on a small apartment building would amount to $500. The United States bureau of standards, which has tested the various types of building material, vouches for the safety of tile.

The ordinance to permit the use of tile was defeated last spring because the brick manufacturers of Chicago did not want it. A heavy smoke screen was raised in the spring which served to conceal the real issue. The smoke has lifted in the intervening months. The question is now seen in its true form and it is this: Is the machinery of Chicago's government to be turned over to any set of manufacturers who wish to use it to maintain a monopoly for their products in the city?

SAFETY IN THE STREETS.

New York has succeeded in reducing its street deaths slightly this year, twenty-nine less in eleven months of this year than in that period of last year. There are 20,000 more children registered in the public schools, but the deaths among children were decreased from 411 to 385. The deputy police commissioner in charge of the safety bureau thinks the record is encouraging. The tendency of the death rate is to increase year by year because there are more automobiles in the streets.

New York has a better system of traffic control than Chicago has, better licensing provisions and, we believe, a stricter enforcement of traffic laws. In Chicago 736 people have been killed at this writing. New York had 939 dead Dec. 1. Considered with respect to population we have the worse record. We do not know what the comparison would show if car miles were considered. It is apparent even if New York has a cleaner state and if it is slowing the death rate down slightly that the answer to the question has not been found. We are convinced that the answer is engineering. Safety has to be built into the highways. High speed vehicles and pedestrians can't be mixed up together with safety. Engineering remedies will take time and meanwhile it is up to traffic authorities to give this city traffic devices which have been found effective elsewhere.

Editorial of the Day

THE BAD OLD MIDDLE MAN.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

The picture of the middle man riding the neck of the downtrodden consumer has been a favorite one in America these many years. "Eliminate the middle man" has long been a familiar slogan and the movement based upon it a popular bandwagon.

There have, of course, been cases in which there are too many middle men. And every business man is familiar with the abnormal condition in which phantom middle men are created for the purpose of advancing prices beyond their economic level.

But sound business requires the economic function performed by the middle man. This function cannot be eliminated, and whoever performs it becomes a middle man whether he acknowledges the label or not. Not only in the minds of the unthinking does he exist the possibility or even the hope that he may be eliminated.

Clarification, however, is needed upon this point, and it has been authoritatively supplied by the committee on methods of distribution of the United States Chamber of Commerce. In a report which will be presented at the national distribution conference to be held in Washington on Dec. 15 and 16 appears the following assertion on the subject:

"The middle man system of marketing developed for the simple reason that middle men are able to perform the marketing functions in the most efficient and effective manner. The term 'elimination of middle men' is slightly misleading, because when one so-called middle man is eliminated the producer or some one else has to undertake the functions previously performed."

It need not be forgotten that there are middle men and middle men, just as, in another department of distribution, there are more and less expensive routes. The middle man cannot be eliminated, but uneconomic middle men can be eliminated, they are eliminated when economic law functions normally.

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN.

"In your poor husband gone?" ventured the minister, seeing an aged woman of the parish had put on heavy mourning.

"O, no, she ain't dead."

"Why are you wearing black then?"

"Well, sah, the old man nagged an' bothered me so much that I've went into mourning 'gain for mah fust husband."—Los Angeles Times.

WINTER PLAY.

It is 11:30 o'clock and almost a dozen games of indoor baseball are going on simultaneously in Grant park. By indoor baseball I mean a game played with a ball about one-third the size of a baseball and a diamond about two-thirds the regulation baseball diamond. The game is played in the open air. The charm of this game at this time is that it is on a thoroughly amateur, unorganized basis. Any fellow feels that he can take a hand, even though he is unskilled, pudgy and short of wind. It offers an opportunity for the office man to get a good deal of fun and some exercise.

The day is cold—say somewhere in the late twenties or early thirties. There is some snow on the ground and it looks like more will follow. None of these boys has any particular sartorial equipment; some were in their shirt sleeves and some wore their overcoat. There is every indication that the bunch had about an hour lunch period. And they seemed to spend about one-half of it playing in the open air. They worked in nearby offices and stores.

And now, a few words about the place. Grant park is located right in the heart of the business district of Chicago. The southwest corner of it, which is given over to informal play at certain hours, is within two minutes' walk from offices and stores, in which many thousands work at sedentary jobs.

A word or two as to the season. It is the middle of November. The summer sports have ended, and skating, snow sliding and other winter sports have not begun. There is great need for something to draw the people into the open air. It is midway of the season for the maximum number of colds and sore throats. The sicknesses are caused from these two groups of diseases are high in October, November and December. The foundation is being laid for pneumonia to build on in January and later.

And, finally, a word or two about the policy of slipping into the open air for a half hour of play at noon.

These men have been working all forenoon in hot, dry, still air. Many of them came to work in densely crowded street cars. Many of the offices and stores where they worked this morning were crowded with people. They were back to their desks and counters. Late this afternoon they will jam into street cars and ride home. By reason of this

CANADIAN PRISONERS.
Chicago, Dec. 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—What is the method of punishing criminals in Canada? I recently read somewhere that the criminals have no floggings here but are put in prison. This seems to me too medieval, so I wish you would please tell me if what I read was correct. C. J. R.

DIFFERENT CANADIAN PROVINCES, as in the case of different American states, have their individual laws. We see no reason to doubt the accuracy of your statement, but believe me, the law is different.

TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.

STOP SIGNS INSTALLED.
Chicago, Nov. 30.—[Friend of the People.]—I live near the corner of Roosevelt and Oakwood boulevard and believe it is one of the most dangerous corners in the city. There have been several accidents and there are near accidents daily here. How can we get a stop sign placed there?

Report is made by our sign division that stop signs have been installed at this intersection. THOMAS H. BYRNE, Superintendent of Streets.

BACK PAGES.
Chicago, Dec. 2.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—The company I have worked for is in bankruptcy and is in the hands of a receiver. Has this company the right to discharge me without paying me up to date? There are several weeks' wages due.

Their legal right to discharge you depends on the nature of your contract of employment. If your contract was to break their contract to become liable for damages. A claim for wages is preferred above ordinary creditors in bankruptcy. TRIBUTE LAW DEPARTMENT.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 8, 1900.

NEW YORK.—Horace J. Hayden, second vice president of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad company, met with a strange death at his home, 337 West 76th street. His body was found in the yard beneath a fourth story window which was open. The air of mystery surrounding the death gave rise to a suicide theory, but later it was learned that Mr. Hayden had been suffering from heart disease and it is supposed that he opened the window for air and fell.

CHICAGO.—Mayor Harrison ended the second day of his newly inaugurated anti-vice crusade by closing six hotels. They are the Brunswick, 9 Adams street; the Glen, 10 Madison street; the Sir William, 70 Randolph street; the Newport, 73 Monroe street; the Columbia, 173 Clark street; and the Oriental, 155 Randolph street. Police have been stationed at the hotels' doors. Under the new orders it is illegal for a woman to purchase liquor in saloons in the downtown territory bounded by Van Buren street, the lake, the river, and the south branch. In other districts women may drink in saloons but not at the bar.

WASHINGTON.—It was announced almost openly in the senate that Secretary of State Hay will resign if the canal treaty is not ratified practically as sent to the senate. He takes the ground that a failure to ratify would amount to a vote of want of confidence in him.

CHICAGO.—Despite the addition of 121 men to the police force the "carnival of crime" continues. More than a dozen robberies were reported in addition to numerous home burglaries.

CHICAGO.—A four day celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Bishop William E. McFarlane's consecration as head of the Episcopal archdiocese of Chicago begins today at the Cathedral of St. Peter and Paul.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 8, 1915.

ROME.—The American oil steamer Communipaw has been sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean, near Tobruk, Tripoli. No information has been received concerning the crew or the whereabouts of the submarine.

WASHINGTON.—The Democratic national convention will be held in St. Louis beginning June 14, 1916. This was the decision of the Democratic national committee, which also adopted resolutions calling for the re-nomination and reelection of Woodrow Wilson as "the trusted leader of national Democracy."

CHICAGO.—Rumors on La Salle street credit C. W. Partridge with having cleared up about $2,000,000 in grain and stock deals.

WASHINGTON.—An appeal for the enactment of legislation for the defense of the nation from enemies at home as well as abroad was the burden of the message President Wilson delivered to the joint assembly of the two houses of congress. He denounced the propaganda of hypenated Americans and the untrustworthy activities of many native Americans.

WAR NEWS.—A Vienna report says Austrian squadrons sank a French submarine and several other ships in the Adriatic off the Albanian coast. Berlin claims the capture of Ipek, Montenegro, with many prisoners. The Bulgarians were defeated by the French in the south of Serbia, according to the official report. Berlin also claims a victory in this sector.

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young leaves Chicago today to go to California to live. Her last act in her last full day as superintendent of schools was to dictate an acceptance of an offer to become a member of the editorial board of the American Internationalist, a fortnightly magazine soon to appear.

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Thrasher, 4011 Lake Park avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Mildred, to Dana Peabody Washburn, connected with Marshall Field & Co.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

PROGRESS LIGHTING THE PATHWAY OF COMMERCE.

On the wings of the light or the darkness,
Borne beautifully there aloft,
With thy flaming torch upreaching
And thy winged wand waved oft,
Thou ledest the eyes of Commerce
Like a spirit of sun and air,
And seemedst afar like a golden star
To the men who know and dare.

Like Mercury touching a hilltop,
Thou poisedst upon the world—
Thy serpent wand a magical power,
And thy torch-flame never furled;
Thou lookest outward and upward,
With a clear prophetic gaze,
And weary eyes to thy radiant skies
A myriad workers raise.

For first in the dawn's gray flashing
From out the silvery lake,
Thou lightest thy torch at the day spring
To lead for the people's sake;
And last in the sunset's reddening,
Through the ruddy city smoke,
Thou gleamest on high in the mellow sky
Like a being that men invoke.

And through the night's thick darkness,
When the toilers sleep and dream,
And only the sentinel walks his beat
Where rushed the human stream,
Thy glowing figure floats above
In the blackness vast and deep,
And watches alone till the night be o'erthrown
By the sun in his upward sweep.

HORACE SPENCER FISKE.

CAL'S visit to Chicago reminds us of the old tale of a train that went through a country town so fast that the natives said it took two men to see it. One of the men would say, "That she comes," while the other said, "That she goes."

Did Dryden Say That? Fire Him!
Don't you know, R. H. L., that "none" is a contraction of the singular "no one" and it is therefore not only correct but exceedingly better taste to say "none has?" The use of "none have" is merely another example of incorrect grammar becoming correct through wide usage. "None have" is only second choice. Member when Dryden said, "None but the brave deserves the fair?"

THEY ARE booting Rudy Valentino's pictures in Rome. The Italians are a wonderful people.

No, but We're Going To.
R. H. L.: Have you heard this one? Sandy invited his girl to the theater. Just before calling for her he put a little gasoline on his coat, and after he got in the street car, he told her to close her eyes and imagine she was riding in a taxi.

WE met John Fay on Rush street yesterday and asked him where he was going. "Oh," said John, "I'm going over to the drug store to get a boiled beef dinner."

They Wanna Ride—Is That It?
To A. O. D., care of R. H. L.: Do you suppose flappers doll up in their sleek hiking clothes because they have the walking habit? Do you suppose they expect to walk, any more than the bathing beauties anticipate dampening their one-piece models? Of course they walk in the same direction the cars are going, and naturally they won't get out of the way! Whatdaya mean, "Dumbbell?" So's your anchovy!

Delightful!
Dick, Dusky Dellah, deceiving decadent Dutch descendant, defeats desired decree diminishing Daddy'dough danke.

Oh, Thou of Little Faith!
R. H. L.: We in Cresco, Iowa, want to know if we are really to have another Line Book this year, or are you only funning when you say we are? Never know when you are serious.

BET we had a big time at the combined Marine and Line Night at "What Price Glory" last evening. But we can't tell you about it because we had to write the last line before we went to the theater. Pat Malone, the day city editor, said he would send a reporter down to the show, and so you will probably find a full account of the doings in some other column of the Trib. (And then again probably not.)

LIAS!
R. H. L.: The boss has just left the office and didn't say he was going home to "see what the neighbors bring him."

Sir: This morning I paid girl-friend the quarter I borrowed from her last week, and she didn't say, "Oh, I had forgotten all about it!" ANNABELLE.

Honick, Dick, while attending a card game was a bunch of friends, the other day, we heard the bell of the police patrol ringing and no one said, "Don't give your right names!" S. A. FAKT.

Dick: The other evening at a studio party—one of those where there is a dearth of "you know"—I gave a lady a drink and she didn't say, "Where is a God—there is a God!" BAMBURGH.

R. H. L.: We hit a bump in the road and the couple in the front seat didn't turn around and say, "Are you still with us?" T. N. T. OF TERRE HAUTE.

HIS TOTAL EARNINGS since he left school and turned pro have been five hundred thousand dollars. How'd you like to be the ice man?

Oh, Mithogynith, You're Thimply Horrid.
R. H. L.: Girls are but creatures of whims and fancies, unthinking animals; their minds flit here and there and elsewhere, while their whims and fancies range even farther in their vagaries. A bare four months ago the "erectone coat" was in its heyday. Now we know it will not return next summer. The trend is toward the worse. The last craze—the most objectionable of all—is the most ridiculous of all. Only the trifolious brain of a female could conceive the shocking idea of wearing men's socks over silk hose. In the name of all that is sensible, why wear silk hose in the winter? Dick, the trend is truly deplorable. What next? GALLUS.

AFTER the speed the President showed yesterday in his dash into Chicago and out again, we move his name be changed from Silent Cal to Lightning Cal.

We Did Not Say It Was by Kipling. We Said Kipperd Herring Wrote It.
R. H. L.: He did not! She "knifed" him! My Kipling book says so an' my Kipling book knows. PAT.

Oh, the Poor Fish!
Dear R. H. L.: Called up the married sister if she would be home this eve, as I would like to call with my new "Butter an' Egg Man." She said, indeed, she would; maybe she could talk him in to get her a case of eggs. Service will be held in "Terra Hote," our old home town.

THE BATTLE has begun. Up, Charley Dawes, up and at 'em.

CAUSE FOR INVESTIGATION

SEE DELAY IN WRIGHT TRIAL FOR DIVORCE

Expect Wife's Illness to Cause Continuance.

Frank Lloyd Wright, architect, left yesterday for a business trip to New York. Frank Lloyd Wright, litigant in a suit for divorce from Miriam Noel Wright, sculptress, on the grounds of desertion, will return to Baraboo, Wis., in time for the scheduled hearing of the case Thursday afternoon.

Judge J. H. Hill of Baraboo, and Attorney Frederick Silaboe of Chicago, Mr. Wright's counsel, recently reinstated his original divorce bill, which had been temporarily withdrawn following his wife's Thanksgiving day charges against him and Miss Olga Silaboe, the Montenegro beauty, who had formerly been his housekeeper at Baraboo, his estate at Spring Green, Wis.

Mr. Wright also withdrew her counsel, asking a divorce for herself on the grounds of desertion and cruelty and desertion, through her attorney, Frank Fale, to file a new bill, asking a divorce from bed and board, "which is the Wisconsin equivalent of a separate maintenance decree."

No such new bill has yet been filed, and it is expected that none will be until after Thursday, when Mrs. Wright's recent illness is likely to cause a continuance of the case.

FRANCE AT ODDS WITH BRITAIN ON DISARM PLANS

League Council Asked to Iron Out Dispute.

BY HENRY WALES,
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright, 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]
GENEVA, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Serious divergences of views between the British and French, with the other powers equally divided, have deadlocked the subcommittee preparing the plans for the league of nations' proposed disarmament conference. The stumbling blocks will be laid before the council.
An impasse has arisen over the question of whether the league members shall undertake to give military and naval assistance as well as participate in financial and economic measures against breakers of the league covenant and aggressors, or whether the material help they offer shall be left in the abstract.
This dispute arose when M. de Bruckere, the Belgian delegate, announced Belgium wishes to reduce armaments materially, but wants a security guarantee beforehand, with stipulations of exactly what military and

WEDDINGS DECLINE, DIVORCES INCREASE IN FIGURES FOR 1924

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—(Special.)—A total of 1,178,206 marriages and 170,867 divorces were reported in the country in 1924, a decrease of 3.7 per cent in marriages and an increase of 3.5 percent in divorces from the 1923 record, according to department of commerce statistics.
New York led the country for the year with 106,512 marriages, while Texas took first place in the divorce column with 15,375. In Illinois there were 81,918 marriages performed, 2,450 less than in 1923, and 13,658 divorces granted, an increase of 1,241.
Among the forty-eight states Nevada had the smallest number of marriages—only 1,079, while Delaware reported on 177 divorces, and the District of Columbia only 126. State laws prohibit divorce in South Carolina.

naval help it will receive in case it is wantonly attacked again.

French Would Divide Job.

Holland, Denmark, and other small states wishing to disarm completely complicated the problem by asking how they can be expected to participate in military operations against a covenant breaker if they do not maintain an army and navy.

Paul Boncour, the French delegate, proposed a series of categories for the different nations, according to their size, population, wealth, geographical situation, and industry, that is, whether a country possesses enormous manufacturing and chemical resources capable of being transformed rapidly into munitions factories and poison gas producers.

"There are visible armaments, like warships, soldiers, and artillery, and there are invisible armaments, like railroads able to affect rapid mobilization and economic resources, able to turn out munitions and arms," explained M. Boncour. "One of the primary results of any disarmament conference must be the creation of an international control commission, which would investigate, supervise the industrial resources of the countries and control the manufacture of arms and munitions."

Britain Stands in Covenant.

Following the age old British policy, Lord Robert Cecil prefers to keep abstract and indefinite the status of whatever assistance the league members extend to a power attacked. This is a diametrically opposite view to that of M. Boncour.

"We must not overload the disarmament conference with the creation of a complicated investigating committee," he said. "Article 16 of the covenant provides that all members shall aid any one wantonly attacked. Instead of figuring out the strength and number of battalions pledged to send aid, why not accept the terms of the covenant that the members will send not casual battalions, but the entire force at their disposal. The members should rely on a general undertaking, assumed when they subscribed to the covenant, which, if executed will give effective security."

Despite M. Boncour's and Lord Cecil's assurances that they are in complete accord, it is evident that the disagreement is deep seated unless Great Britain agrees to assume concrete obligations to aid attacked states. Greece sprang a surprise before the council today by contesting and rejecting the findings and recommendations of the league commission which investigated the frontier outbreak in September, and awarded Bulgaria 20,000,000 levas (about $2,000,000) damages from the Athens government.

Former Foreign Minister Rentsis, representing Greece, disavowed the pledge of the Greek minister in Paris, who agreed at the special council meeting in October to accept whatever findings the league investigators reached.

Instead, M. Rentsis stated, Greece is entitled to plead its case before the council and demand that the question be referred to the international court of justice at The Hague for a decision whether the league can accept the investigating committee's recommendations without hearing Athens. M. Rentsis made a bolder claim on behalf of Greece for 50,000,000 drachmas ($1,666,000) from Bulgaria for damages.

New Committee Named.
President Scialoja, Italian, named a committee composed of Sir Austen Chamberlain, Viscount Ishii of Japan and Paul Hymans of Belgium to decide the affair.

Under the mandate of the Paris council session, the investigators were empowered to fix the responsibility for the outbreak and estimate the material damages. They found the Greeks guilty of starting the affray and assessed material damages of 20,000,000 levas which Athens must pay Sofia. They also recommended that Greece pay Bulgaria 10,000,000 levas compensation for the Bulgarian killed and wounded, and proposed the creation of a permanent conciliation committee composed of Greek, Bulgarian, and neutral officers, stationed at the frontier to quell and settle future troubles.

It is believed Sir Austen, Viscount Ishii, and M. Hymans will reject the Greeks' demand to refer the question to The Hague court, and will uphold the investigators' findings.

BULLETIN.
TOKIO, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Dispatches to the foreign office from Mukden report that Marshal Chang Tso-lin has decided not to resign and intends to make a firm stand against his enemies. A battle between the forces of Chang and those of Gen. Kuo is expected at Chinchow.

BY WILLIAM PROHME.

PEKING, Dec. 7.—Chang Tso-lin's forces were decisively defeated in a major battle yesterday by rebel anti-Mukden forces under the command of Gen. Kuo Sung-ling. Authentic reports from Mukden say Chang made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide following the news of the defeat. Later telegrams said Chang would resign as overlord of Manchuria, which position he has held for ten years. The remnants of the loyal Mukden forces are in full retreat toward Mukden. They are now north of Chinchow, which has been looted. The retreating

WAR TORN CHINA

1. The forces of the Manchurian leader, Chang Tso-lin, have been badly defeated by rebels and are fleeing toward Mukden. Fighting between Gen. Li and Feng Yu-hsiang looms at Tientsin.
2. Russia is believed to have had a hand in recent events, seeking to get a grip on Mongolia and western China and strengthening Marshal Feng.
3. Japan, while asserting it is neutral, is believed to have aided Chang to strengthen the Japanese position in Manchuria.
4. Civil war is imminent in the Yangtze valley as a result of the fall of the strong man, Chang Tso-lin.
5. Red troops of Canton are reported to be preparing to advance northward.
"We surrender." When the Mukdenites came forward to fraternize with them, the rebels fired on them and took many prisoners after subsequent fighting.
The victory of the anti-Mukden forces places Li Chang-ling, tuchun of Chihli province, in a difficult position because of his outspoken opposition to Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general. In case his personal position is untenable and he is forced to flee to Tientsin, it is feared that Tientsin may be looted. Troops of Feng Yu-hsiang, equipped with heavy artillery, are leaving Peking for Tientsin. A battle there is expected momentarily.

BIG CRASH LOOMS

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]
SHANGHAI, Dec. 7.—The renewed warfare in the north of China, which Chinese here generally attribute to the machinations of Japan and Russia for the dominance of the Chinese government and the control of Manchuria and Mongolia, may lead to a general breakup and the realignment of central and south China.
The leading Chinese papers here charge that the Japanese and the soviet are giving financial assistance to the Manchurian leader Chang Tso-lin. Feng Yu-hsiang, the Christian general, has circulated a telegram here to the effect that the closeness of Chinese and Russian territory makes peaceful relations necessary, but that there is no danger of China becoming sovietized through this contact.
That the possibility of a general breakup and a renewal of fighting in the Yangtze valley is causing apprehension to the foreign governments is indicated by the dispatching of a half dozen gunboats to Tsingtao harbor, due to the fear that the retreating Fengtien (Manchurian) forces may loot the port and endanger foreign lives. It is also reported that the United States will send 300 marines here to protect American lives and property.

Red Forces Advance.

Canton red forces are reported to be advancing northward in the vicinity of Swatow.
Central China reports say the situation is tense between Honan and Hupeh because of a suggestion that Marshal Wu Peifu is preparing to make a northern advance to take advantage of the north China split.

BERG TERROR TALES OF LITTLE BUSINESS

Millions in Property Are Affected, He Hears.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Laviolette, attack, 1 to 14 years in penitentiary, by Judge Emanuel.

James Hains, Augustus Crowder, robbery, 3 to 20 years each in penitentiary; William Toney, larceny, 1 year in Bridewell; by Judge Marcus Kavanagh.

James Allen, assault with deadly weapon, 1 year in Bridewell; and Alfred S. Mette, subornation, 1 year in Bridewell, by Judge Thomas J. Lynch.

Business and taxpayers but property owners in name only was the way a committee of the Real Estate Owners' Association described themselves yesterday.

Robert E. Crowe for relief, saying they are at the mercy of a band of renegade labor leaders.

They said they represented $5,000,000 worth of property that can be rented at the pleasure of some self-appointed business agent. As a result the methods used against them they said at least $1,000,000 in property has depreciated 50 per cent.

The men accused also dominate the business men, it was charged, and such merchants must obey or be nearly penalized.

Radius of the Complaints.

The territory involved is mostly in the Lawndale and Garfield park sections, they said. They named as their promoters Maxie Eisen, head of the Butcher's association, a man named Clancy, and another named Philip Lazarus.

Attorney Mandel Yale was spokesman for the landlords who complained. Many storekeepers also appeared.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who is personally to prosecute all those indicted or soon to be indicted as bomb-throwers and terrorists, and Assistant State's Attorney Joseph P. Savage heard the case.

Fifty persons already are under indictment and it was said there would be more within forty-eight hours.

Herman Iglowitz, one of the complainants, said he has had seven stores burnt for seven months because certain men had refused to permit certain kinds of businesses to occupy the stores. When one has been rented over an objection, windows were smashed.

Woman Tells of Orders.

Mrs. May Conrad, 1534 South Kedzie avenue, who described herself as an American born, a taxpayer, and holder of a license from Mayor Dever to operate a delicatessen, said the invisible government had forbidden her to run her store. She was selling corned beef at 85 cents per pound, but was ordered to raise the price to 96 cents. She was ordered not to sell milk after seven o'clock in the evening, and had refused to sell it for use of a sick person.

Poultry and Pet Show Opens at Coliseum Today.

The seventeenth annual poultry and pet stock show will open today at the Coliseum. Exhibitors are here from various parts of the United States. Several poultry clubs will hold their meetings here during the show, including the American Barred Plymouth Rock club, the International Partridge Plymouth Rock club, the American Silver Pencilled Plymouth club, and others. The Chicago Persian Cat society will hold its annual three day exhibition in connection with the Coliseum poultry show, which lasts until Dec. 13. The cat show opens Dec. 11.

BATTLE ON IRISH BORDER TREATY FLARES IN DAIL

First Ballots Indicate Bill Will Pass.

BY HUGH CURRAN.

(Copyright: 1925. By The Chicago Tribune.)

DUBLIN, Dec. 7.—The exciting session of the Dail Eireann today indicates the government will have the greatest difficulty in securing the passage of the bill approving the London settlement of the Irish border problem.

The proceeding had just opened and the first reading of the bill passed when Deputy Johnson moved adjournment. This was defeated by 55 to 28. Mr. Johnson then started a long wrangle regarding a standing order, his point being that the house ought to know the reasons why the executive regarded the treaty matter as urgent. Mr. Johnson pointed out that the Ulster government does not propose action until Wednesday. He asked President Cosgrave to state his reasons for his action. This the latter did briefly, recalling the dangers of last week's situation. The president vehemently struck the table with the bill in his hand, saying the bill will be put through. Finally a division was taken and Mr. Johnson's motion was defeated by a large majority.

Cosgrave Frequently Interrupted.
Mr. Cosgrave then moved a second reading of the bill. His long speech on the subject was frequently interrupted by Mr. Johnson and others. Other speeches followed, and the debate ultimately was adjourned until tomorrow.

That the bill finally will pass is not doubted, but a new element in the situation presents itself tonight. A notice appears in the evening papers signed by Deputies Johnson, O'Malley, and Baxter calling a meeting at the Shelburne hotel for tomorrow morning of all "elected deputies believing, as they do, that an agreement toward the alteration of the treaty calls for serious consideration and consultation."

Bid for De Valera Votes.
Obviously the invitation is to the republicans; perhaps in an endeavor to find a means of inducing Eamon De Valera's party to enter the dail. This cannot be done without the elimination of the oath of allegiance to the crown, and that is not intended, nor can it be achieved in connection with the bill moved by the president, since the bill is an identical one with that to be passed by the imperial parliament.

The voting today indicated that there will be no defection from the government ranks other than that already foreseen, which will not exceed six ballots. It is calculated that even if all the available republicans came in the bill would still have a majority. It is understood that if the government gets a majority of ten no general election will follow.

British Parliament Gets Bill.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Dec. 7.—Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin this afternoon formally introduced in the house of commons a bill to give effect to the Irish boundary settlement. It will be rushed through all stages tomorrow so it can receive royal assent this week. An identical bill must also be passed by the Dail Eireann.

Gets Year for Robbing
Dunning Trust Fund

Albert F. Mette, former chief clerk at the Chicago state hospital, Dunning, was sentenced to serve a year in the Bridewell yesterday by Chief Justice Thomas J. Lynch in the Criminal court, after he had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of embezzling $3,250 from the "trust fund" at the institution. The trust fund is the money taken in from relatives and friends to be paid out to the inmates.

GRANT NEW TRIAL TO JUDGE GUILTY OF PERJURY PLOT

Judge James S. Reynolds of Rockford, sitting in the Circuit court at Woodstock, yesterday granted a new trial to County Judge C. P. Barnes and former State's Attorney V. S. Lumley, both of McHenry county, who were recently convicted of a conspiracy to suborn perjury.

It was alleged at the trial that the defendants had railroaded Clarence and Fremont Hoy, McHenry county bankers, to the penitentiary by illegal means. Since the verdict the Hays have been released from Joliet by the state parole board.

Judge Reynolds, after hearing arguments on the motion for a new trial,

Recover Stolen Safe from Truck in Gun Battle

After firing several shots, Sgt. Roy Heiser and his detective bureau squad yesterday morning halted a truck on which three men were hauling away a safe they had taken from the Knickerbocker theater, 6225 Broadway. Two of the men leaped from the truck and escaped. The driver, Edward Genin, 5502 Milwaukee avenue, was captured. In the safe, which had not been opened, was $2,200. The detectives decided to question the trio after they saw the partially covered safe on the vehicle as they drove along Carpenter road.

BRICK, TILE MEN TO GIVE IDEAS ON NEW ORDINANCE

Manufacturers of clinker and cement blocks for building construction as well as tile and brick interests will be heard by a subcommittee of the council committee on buildings and zoning before drafting an ordinance revising the building code so as to permit the use of other building materials as well as brick in construction.

This decision was reached yesterday by the buildings and zoning committee, which met at the request of Mayor Dever in an effort to draft an ordinance that would break the monopoly of the brick makers, who have been successfully fighting amendment to the building code for years.

ALDERMEN WILL ASK THE I. C. FOR MEMORIAL SITE

Propose New Location for Firemen's Building.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The proposed memorial fire engine house in the middle of Wacker drive attracted considerable attention yesterday among the aldermen. It received the attention of the finance committee of the city council for a short time, with no resultant action or formal expression of attitude, although several aldermen privately expressed themselves as opposed to that location.

The subject will be brought up in the council subcommittee meeting on the Illinois Central railroad ordinance this morning. This subcommittee is composed of Ald. Coughlin, O'Toole, and Anderson. They are asked to make certain changes in the Illinois Central ordinance of 1915 which the aldermen have been told will bring $2,000,000 benefit to the railroad.

Will Request Site.

AM. Anderson said yesterday that he will ask the subcommittee to request of the railroad an air right site for a fire station over the Illinois Central tracks east of Michigan avenue and north of Randolph street. In that area is about 77 acres over which the road intends to make an intensive development.

"This area will need fire protection," said Ald. Anderson, "and the city needs a site for a fire station. The railroad is asking important concessions from the city. As one condition to favorable action the railroad should donate a site above its tracks for a memorial fire engine house."

Make It Real Memorial.

"I would like to see this as a real monument of merit to the fire heroes who have sacrificed their lives in the service, as the department desires. Let it have a hall for tablets of heroes, a hall for the trophies of the department and I would also have a museum showing the development of the fire fighting apparatus and equipment."

"Such a firemen's memorial on Randolph street at the corner of the inner of the two magnificent drives east of Michigan would be one of the show places of the city, because in it I would have located the quarters of three fire fighting companies—the latest design in fire engine, hook and ladder truck, and squad wagon."

Suggest Lake Street.

"It would probably require 100 feet square to get a building of the artistic merit which a firemen's memorial should be. So far as I am concerned, the Illinois Central will be asked to donate such a site. I shall bring up the subject at the subcommittee meeting tomorrow morning."

Another alderman suggested that if the Illinois Central does not readily and cheerfully donate a site, as suggested, that the memorial be placed in Lake street, fronting on Michigan boulevard and extending eastward to Beaubien court. Still another alderman preferred South Water street between Michigan boulevard and Beaubien court.

FOUND DEAD IN KNOW.

James F. Cunningham, 61, working as a farm hand near Schaumburg, four miles south of Elmhurst, Ill., was found dead in a ditch yesterday.

CALLES STRIVES TO EASE MEXICAN OIL MEN'S PATHS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Mexico City, Dec. 7.—Mexico is developing a new petroleum policy, inspired by President Calles, who wishes to see Mexico's oil wealth developed, said an oil man close to the government today. "President Calles understands the necessity of encouraging the oil men and attracting oil capital to Mexico, and therefore he is trying to make the exploitation of oil easier and more satisfactory to the investors of capital."

The minister of industry today, acting on orders of President Calles, issued a decree intended to facilitate petroleum exploitation. It provides new facilities for the exploitation of oil, the extension of the boundaries of oil lands, and the terms for exploitation are made easier.

The government reports the Mexican National Railway oil lands are producing more than 100,000 barrels a day.

As a result, the government has ordered the drilling of thirty more wells on the company's lands. Heavy storage of oil is being made in reservoirs along the 13,000 miles of the National railways as security against strikes, temporary suspension of oil activities, or political trouble.

A PROTEST AGAINST BRAKE BURNING

ROLLS-ROYCE

BEFORE them stretched the perilous descent from Pike's Peak . . . dangerous curves and steep grades which motor-cars ordinarily take in second gear and with a generous use of the "emergency" brake . . . yet a Rolls-Royce was brought down this grade, in some places as steep as 10½ %, in neutral, controlled by the foot brakes alone.

No doubt ever exists in the mind of a Rolls-Royce owner. He knows that his brakes will hold. Brake-linings do not burn out. Brakes do not overheat because they have five times the cooling area of those on ordinary cars. Drums and bands are made of railroad-tire steel, spun forgings. Brakes are so sensitive that there is never difficulty in keeping the car under perfect control. The brake-equalizer (a separate differential gear) applies the retarding force evenly, reducing skidding to a minimum. You cannot find more reliable brakes on any other motor-car.

The absolute three-year guarantee against failure of any mechanical part is simply our expression of confidence in Rolls-Royce—the most economical car in the world. You buy more than 20 years of comfortable motor transportation. A 100-mile trial trip over any roads you care to select will be gladly arranged to suit your convenience.

MURDERS, RIOTS MARK ELECTION FEUDS IN MEXICO

BY JOHN CORNYN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1925, By The Chicago Tribune.)
Mexico City, Dec. 7.—Riots and killings in various municipal elections in Mexico yesterday gave warning of what may be expected if effective police protection is not forthcoming in the elections in Mexico City and the suburban towns and villages next Sunday. Police have promised full protection against violence here.

In General Anaya, a town a few miles from the capital, a band of political hooligans fired into the house of a political opponent, Eufemio Lara, killing him and wounding another person who died shortly afterwards. It is said that the chief of police of General Anaya was involved in the outrage and that Señor Tacubaya's political terrorists aided him.

Terrorists Kill Child.

A week ago the same Tacubaya terrorists attacked the house of a political opponent, Señor Coto, killing a child and wounding Señor Coto and his wife.

Although the police patrolled the streets of Puebla, the second city of Mexico, yesterday, the contenders in the municipal elections engaged in a pitched battle in which two were killed and four dangerously wounded. Many others, although wounded, escaped to their homes, avoiding police registration.

Rioters Attack Police.

In Xochimilco, the Cony Island of Mexico City, both political parties fought one another and attacked the police for interfering. After many heads were broken and considerable blood spilled, the police dominated the situation, blocking the mouths of the streets.

BLINDS CASHIER WITH PEPPER; LOOTS LOOP CAFE

A suave young man entered the balcony offices of the Blackhawk restaurant, 139 North Wabash avenue, during the luncheon period yesterday, tossed red pepper in the eyes of the girl cashier, stuffed pay envelopes containing nearly $1,000 in his pockets, and escaped into the thick crowds of Christmas shoppers.

On his way out he explained to the doorman that the screams behind him, coming from the cashier, were those of a lady injured in the elevator shaft, and that he was rushing for a physician.

A policeman blew his whistle obligingly for him to pass. The cashier, Miss Edna Schwartz, 33 years old, 5440 Prairie avenue, fought to hold the pay envelopes and saved at least half of them in the struggle before she was blinded.

SOVIET ARRESTS 15 EXECUTIONERS OF CZAR REGIME

MOSCOW, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Fifteen former executioners under the czarist regime were arrested today, charged with having strangled to death at least 500 revolutionists.

The evidence, as set forth in the local press, says that they received from $10 to $50 for each execution, and that one of them, a priest named Rosanoff, who officiated at the hangings, received $1.50 for each prayer on the gallows.

The place of execution is said to have been in the cellar of a private house. There was a large table and on it a chair. Attached to the ceiling was a stout rope from which the victims were suspended when the chair was thrust from under them.

Steamers, Short of Food, Icebound Off Holland

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

THE HAGUE, Dec. 7.—Extreme cold weather has resulted in disaster and trouble for shipping. Outside the Zuider Zee two steamers and fishing boats are locked in the ice. The crews of the fishing boats have been rescued, but it has not been possible to reach the steamers, which are short of food. Many islands along the coast usually connected by ferry are now entirely cut off.

Ex-Secretary Weeks and Wife Visit Panama Canal

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, Dec. 7.—Former Secretary of War and Mrs. John W. Weeks arrived here today after a tour of South America. They were met by Gov. Walker and Maj. Gen. Lassiter, in command in the canal zone. They will be the guests of the canal zone governor until Wednesday, when they will proceed to Havana.

BERENGERTO GET O. K. AS FRENCH ENVOY TO U. S.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Dec. 7.—The French cabinet was expected tonight to confirm the appointment of Henri Berenger as ambassador to the United States, to succeed M. Daeschner, for whom the government is seeking another post. M. Berenger will be charged with the special mission of taking up the debt negotiations where they were ended in October on the departure of Joseph Caillaux, of whose commission M. Berenger was a member.

The new ambassador's appointment, however, will be provisional, renewable every six months, which it is claimed is evidence of the government's desire not to let ambassadors lose touch with home affairs. M. Berenger expects to leave at the end of December, about the time that Louis Loucheur goes to London on a similar project. Henry Cheron is prominently mentioned to succeed M. Berenger as reporter of the budget in the senate.

VON HINDENBURG FIGHTS TO AVERT GERMAN CHAOS

Tries to Unite Factions for Coalition Cabinet.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
BERLIN, Dec. 7.—President von Hindenburg is confronting the first cabinet crisis in his presidency. But the former commander of the kaiser's army is calmly bringing pressure on the opposing republican parties to persuade them to prepare a big coalition, ranging from the Socialists and their lesser political enemies to Herr Stresemann's German people's party. The German party leaders have taken the order meekly and will call special party caucuses in a last effort to form the coalition.

The Socialists will meet tomorrow. The German people's party, after promising President von Hindenburg to the ground on which they will be able to work with the Socialists, have set their party caucus for Thursday. The Centrists and Democrats have been urged by President von Hindenburg to use their soothing influence to form a Weimar coalition, which he considers the best possible basis for the government.

Hindenburg's Strong Hand.

Whether the efforts to form a cabinet by the Weimar parties will succeed is uncertain, but the fact that President von Hindenburg, a man who a year ago claimed to know nothing of politics, is strong enough to induce the political party leaders to come together and try to find common ground shows his influence will have considerable weight.

The Nationalists, who engineered President von Hindenburg's election, hoping to control the government through him, are agitated. They still hope the feud between the Socialists and the People's party will force President von Hindenburg to nominate Herr Luther and a group of ministers who, without being Nationalists, are still their secret allies. Thus, Germany's Republicans and Socialists are striving to prevent the formation of a camouflaged Nationalist government.

Fear Voice of Masses.

An obstacle, from the Socialists' viewpoint, to the formation of a Weimar coalition is the fear of their leaders that if they join the government the masses, who are bound to suffer during the course of the coming hard winter, will blame them for the hardships and turn to the Communists and their Utopian promises. The Communist party, inspired by Moscow, has offered a new alliance to the Socialists for the sake of the "world proletariat, to fight hunger and joblessness."

The bourgeois parties under President von Hindenburg are making advances to the Socialists for the sake of "economic peace, which will help the cause of the workers."

Socialists to Choose.

Tomorrow the Socialists have to choose between the course indicated by the Communists or collaboration with the liberal elements of Germany. The People's party will have to give the Socialists solemn guarantees on the policy of the forthcoming cabinet. The Socialists are willing to risk some of their popularity with the masses by entering the government if the People's party promises not to overthrow the Weimar coalition on the slightest provocation.

Have you driven the Custom-built Coach?

A great many Series 80 demonstrations have been given during the past few months. Even more than in the early days of the Pierce-Arrow Series 80. Performance in the hands of owners is now having apparent effect. They are enthusing to friends about how their Series 80's act. And so this endless chain of recommendation is growing and growing. So, too, sales and demonstrations have grown apace.

It is always a pleasure to demonstrate this beautiful Series 80 car. Nothing so surely impresses one with its power—its comfort—its safety, as a ride behind the steering wheel or as a passenger.

Then, too, it is a pleasure to point out the surprising economy records. For the Series 80, you know, is an economy car.

Gas, for instance, gives 14 to 17 miles per gallon—a saving and a sure indication of fine engineering. Tires give 15,000 to 20,000 miles quite commonly. And maintenance expense, according to owners, is unbelievably small. Being well built, adjustments are needed infrequently. And then, high speed tools and machines reduce both the time and the cost to an unusually low point. And, do not forget, Pierce-Arrow cars are built for many years of service.

We invite you to ride in a Series 80. A courteous driver will be placed at your service. Or you may take the steering wheel yourself. There is no obligation. Call or phone us.

CHILE EXPRESSES ITS CONFIDENCE IN GEN. PERSHING

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 7.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Jara today issued a communication regarding the Tacna-Arica plebiscite situation, asserting "the question no longer is a conflict between two nations (Peru and Chile) but a difference of a juridical nature which is nearer a favorable solution."

The statement says the Chilean government maintains its stand that there is nothing to justify postponing indefinitely the plebiscite to determine the sovereignty of Tacna and Arica. "It reiterates Chile's willingness to grant all reasonable guarantees for the plebiscite, saying: 'In reality she has accepted all guarantees required thus far and does not accept any responsibility for noncompliance with the arbitrator's award, a responsibility which rests fully on those avoiding the holding of a popular referendum as prescribed by the arbitrator."

Expect Pershing to Act.

"Peru," the statement continues, "has publicly declared its purpose not to accept any other solution than a plebiscite. Chile confirmed the same desire in categorical terms on Señor Edwards' (head of the Chilean delegation) motion."

"With this accord and by acceptance by Chile of all the guarantees demanded, it is demonstrated that there are no difficulties in the way of complying with the award. There are good reasons for having confidence that the arbitrator's delegate (Gen. John J. Pershing) at the next meeting of the plebiscitary commission will exert his high influence toward approving some formula which will make possible the holding of the plebiscite in the near future."

Speedy Solution Hoped For.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—(AP)—Selection of Ambassador Mathieu as a member of the Chilean cabinet is expected here to have an immediately favorable effect on the tangled affairs of the Tacna-Arica negotiations in progress at Arica under the presidency of Gen. Pershing.

Because of his intimate acquaintance with the views of the White House in its efforts to compose the long standing quarrel between Chile and Peru, Señor Mathieu is looked upon here as particularly equipped to exert a great influence toward a settlement.

He is regarded as particularly well fitted for the portfolio of foreign affairs, since the foreign office maintains direct supervision over the Chilean delegates at Arica.

KIP'S BRIDE AND HER MOTHER GO INTO RETIREMENT

New York, Dec. 7.—(Special).—Alice Jones Rhinelander, victor in the annual merit suit brought by Leonard Kip Rhinelander, disappeared suddenly today. With her went her mother, Mrs. George Jones.

Alice has gone away to recuperate, but whether to Florida, as was announced on Saturday, or to some other place, is not known.

"They went by train because Alice is in no condition to drive," Mrs. Grace

Miller, her sister, said today. "Alice and mother spent most of yesterday packing. Alice received many telegrams. They didn't tell me where they are going. Father knows, but won't tell."

Rhinelander, who vanished on Sunday, may seek a Paris divorce from his Negro bride, it was reported today.

TWO POLICEMEN ON ROBBER HUNT HURT IN CRASH

Two policemen answering a burglary alarm last night from 1534 West Jackson boulevard were seriously injured when the car in which they were riding was struck by a yellow taxi cab. The car sped away after the accident and the driver is being sought.

The injured are patrolmen Dennis Breslin and William Lawlor of the Des Plaines street station. At the county hospital it was said Lawlor was suffering from concussion of the brain. The police car was overturned and wrecked.

One death yesterday raised the 1925 Cook county motor toll to 737.

has no address, was struck by a taxi cab driven by Lawrence Duckwig, 1543 West 61st street, at Madison and Halsted streets. He died at the county hospital.

Two Others Injured.

A woman and a girl were also injured in automobile accidents yesterday. The drivers in both cases did not stop. They are Mrs. Rose Orlosky, 38 years old, 7113 South Ashland avenue, and Joseph Denna, 15 years old, 4807 South Hermitage avenue.

Coroner John L. Taylor of Lake county narrowly escaped death yesterday when his automobile, stalled on a grade crossing at Rondout, was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train. The coroner leaped out and suffered a sprained ankle. The car was demolished.

John H. Scott, 24 years old, 405 Madison street, Glencoe, died Sunday of automobile injuries.

MANY SEIZED IN RAIDS ARE GIVEN FINES OF $100

Sixty men seized in police raids on the south side over the week-end were arraigned yesterday before Judge John H. Lyle in the Pekin Inn court. Legal wrangling over the search warrants used by the police marked the hearing of the cases. Judge Lyle, however, called cases rapidly and assessed fines of $100 against those booked as keepers. Inmates were fined from $5 to $15.

Those fined $100 are John Sheehan, 4327 South Halsted street; John Fanning, 4641 South Halsted; James Kin-sella and Robert Boyce, both of 755 West 54th place; Theodore Sullivan, 300 West 47th street; George Walker, 2000 South Union avenue, and Thomas Boyle, 249 Rock street. Several keepers were fined additional sums for maintaining slot machines.

TOOTH PULLED; DIES ON WAY HOME IN CAB

Samuel Nissen, 31 years old, of Glen Ellyn, died suddenly yesterday afternoon in a taxicab as he was being taken to a hospital. He became ill after a tooth had been extracted by a loop dentist.

Nissen, who was president of the Perfection Cleaners company, was pronounced dead when he reached the Washington Park hospital. His brother-in-law, Sewall Osgood of 438 Montclair avenue, Glen Ellyn, was with him.

DRYS EDGE INTO TEXAS FIGHT; NEW JURY GOES ON JOB

"Ma's" Politics Branded Blow at Prohibition.

Austin, Tex., Dec. 7.—[Special.]—Declaring that men who treated public office as a private snap were betraying their trust, Judge James R. Hamilton told the new Travis county grand jury today to investigate the actions of Gov. (Ma) Ferguson and all other officers of the state government. The grand jury took up the inquiry into the highway scandal and other state affairs where the old grand jury left it off a week ago.

Dry Attacks "Ma."
Atticus Webb of Dallas, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, entered the controversy with a statement that "Ma" Ferguson's administration had been a hindrance to prohibition enforcement, that the wholesale pardoning of criminals had encouraged crime, and that her $500 reward for arrest and conviction of liquor violators worth $5,000 or more was propaganda aimed to arouse dissatisfaction against the dry laws.

The grand jury may make its report on the Ferguson administration within a week or ten days, as hundreds of pages of testimony taken by the previous grand jury have been turned over to the new body.

Hinges on Jury.
It appeared today that a special session of the legislature for impeachment purposes would hinge largely on the grand jury. Public opinion is still opposed to spending a large sum of money for a special session with an impeachment doubtful. If the grand jury discloses still more sensational facts, however, an aroused public sentiment may compel a special session.

MINISTER GUILTY OF MAILING OUT OBSCENE MATTER

Cleveland, O., Dec. 7.—[AP.]—Rev. Albert Sidney Gregg, author, lecturer and superintendent of the American Civic Reform union, was found guilty in federal court today of sending obscene matter through the mails.

The verdict was returned by a jury about four hours after Gregg's trial on a charge of mailing a "Jane Doe affidavit" to members of the congregation of Rev. William C. Hicks, Cleveland pastor, in an effort to oust Hicks from his pulpit for alleged improper advances to a parishioner who had sought his advice. The jury deliberated only a few minutes.

Mr. Gregg was found guilty on all three counts in the indictment. Each count carries a sentence of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine. Judge Paul Jones announced sentence would be passed Wednesday. Gregg formerly held pastorates in Tacoma and Seattle and Hicks at Spokane.

Start Picking Jury to Hear Suit Against Opera Co.

Several months of preparation to sing in Wagner's opera, "Tannhäuser," were worth $50,000, S. de Zanco, tenor, declared yesterday as a jury was being selected in Judge Hosea N. Wells' court to hear his suit for that amount against the Chicago Civic Opera company and Giorgio Polacco, director. De Zanco said he signed a contract to sing in the opera during the 1924 season and that the company declined to engage him. Testimony will begin today.

Carrying the Shoppers

THE Christmas rush is on. Streets and stores are crowded with shoppers. Demand for transportation is greater than ever before in the history of Chicago.

The Surface Lines are carrying more than three-fourths of this enormous load, and every possible effort is being made by the management with increased service and alert supervision, to provide the highest degree of comfort and speed in operation.

Traffic congestion, however, seriously handicaps the effective use of equipment.

Anything that blocks or delays street car movement affects many thousands of individuals and adds to traffic difficulties.

Parking on narrow carline streets forces all vehicles onto the car tracks, reducing the speed of street cars to the speed of the slowest vehicle and resulting in frequent blockades.

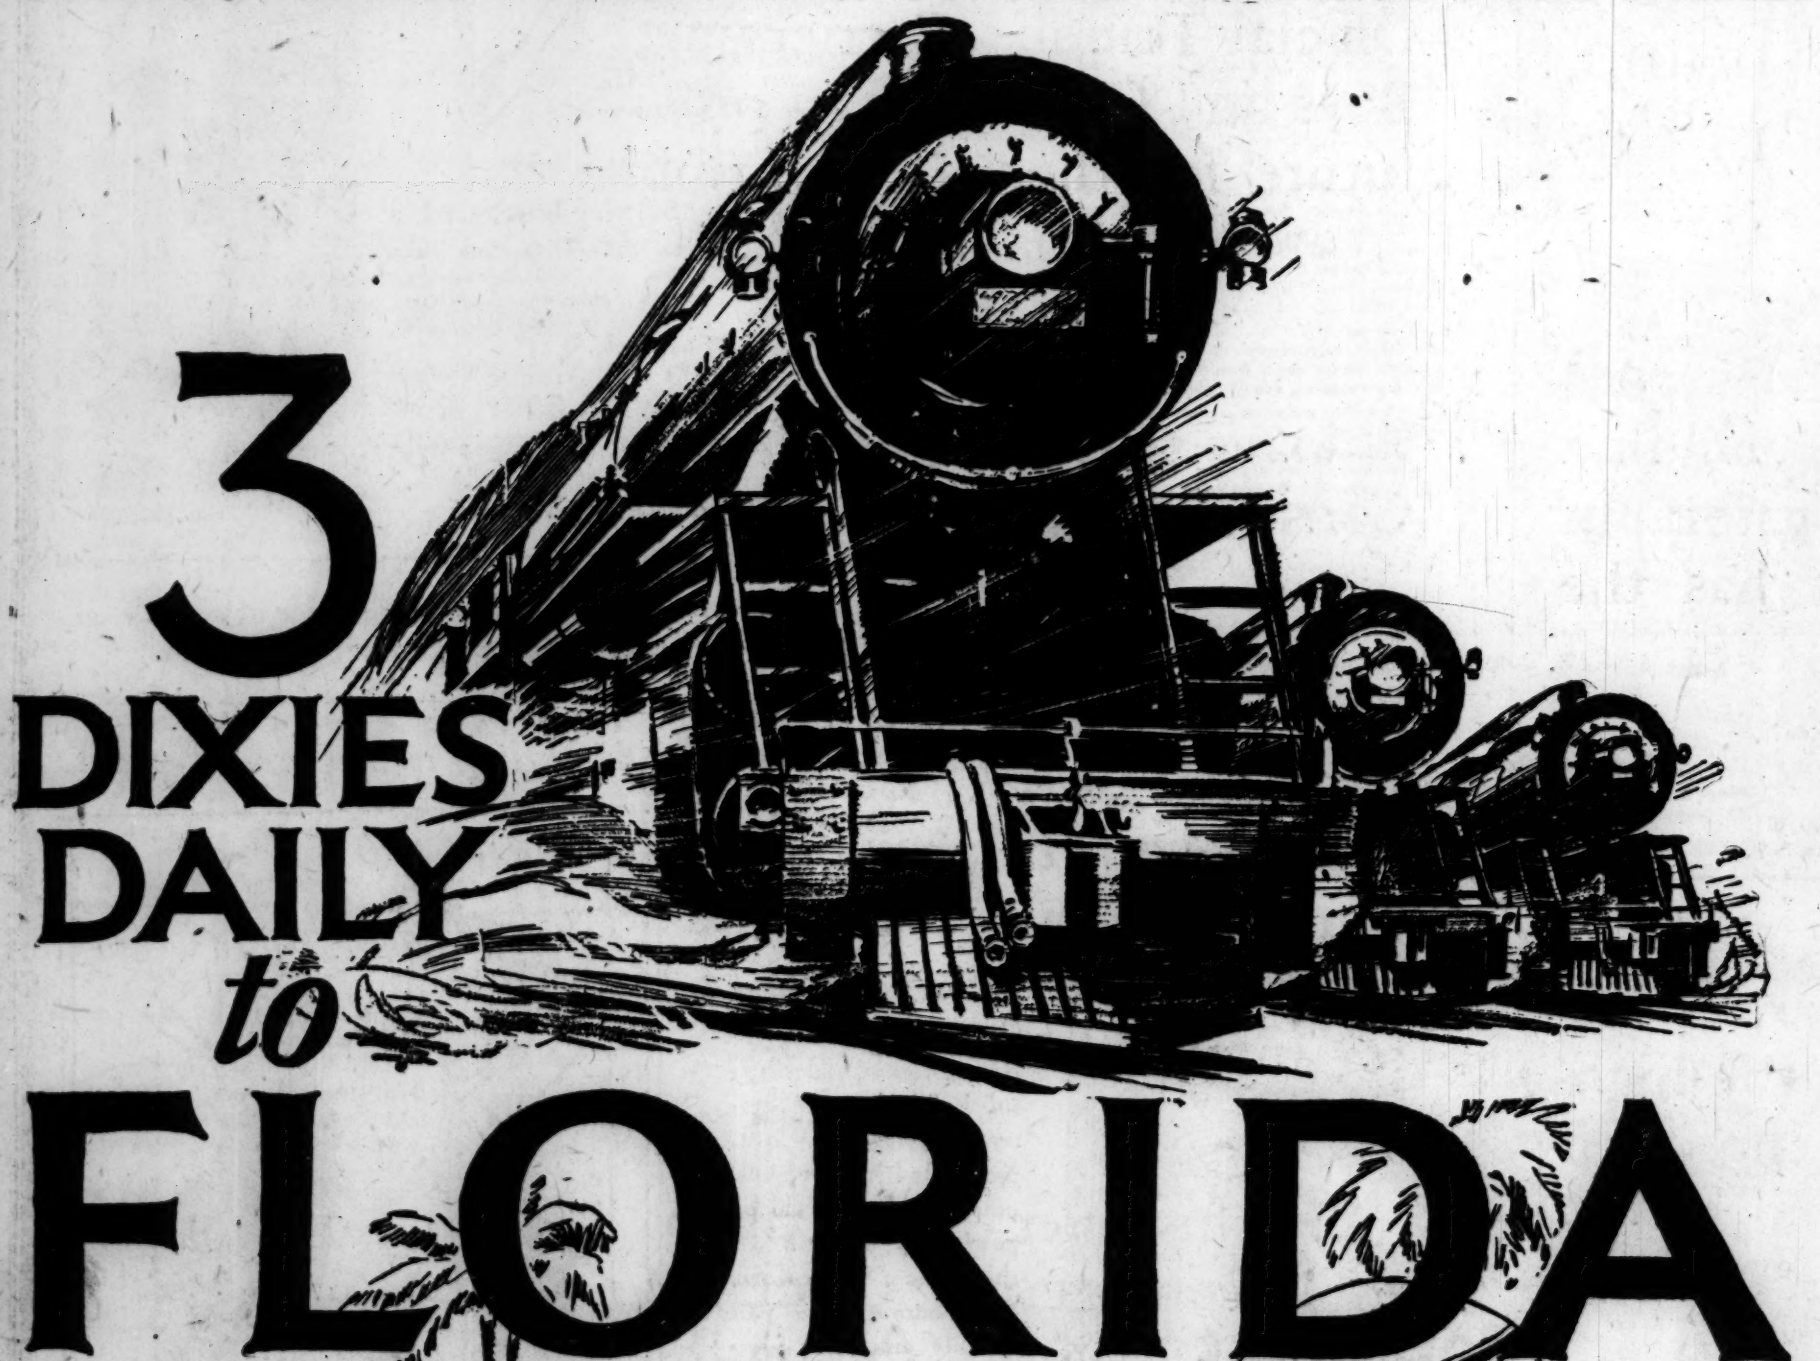

On the principle of the greatest good to the greatest number, street cars should have preferred right-of-way.

Moreover, as street car riders lay the track, pave and maintain it, their right to the unobstructed use of it should be unquestioned.

The gayest, grandest event in the city's history is under way at the Chicago Riding Club. The annual horse show, which has been held for many years, is the largest of its kind in the country. TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Broiled Meat Roll.

An ancient and inexact recipe entitled "Mock Hare" suggested something of a mixture of ground pork and beef—half and half—with various seasonings (it mentioned none) as an inexpensive little meat dish for luncheon or even dinner. The old recipe recommended that the ground meat be made up in the form of a hare and then be broiled. Probably the proportion of the ingredients is not a vital matter. The butcher is filling the order gave us a little more than one half pound of round steak, and a little less than one-half pound of pork, at a total cost of thirty-three cents, and making a roll large enough to serve three persons amply, and four when served with a sauce thick with mushrooms.

We wiped the meat and trimmed it, then put it through the food chopper with one onion—perhaps it would have been better to have used the juice only of the onion—and one teaspoon of salt. This was made up into a roll, flattened somewhat, put into a small tin, basted with one tablespoon of melted butter. It was then rolled up and broiled for twenty minutes. First, for fifteen minutes, until it was fine and brown, on top and sides, and then it was turned and broiled for five minutes on the other side. This served with a garnish of parsley or cress and a mushroom sauce with fried potatoes around it, made a pleasant meal as well as an inexpensive one.

This roll did not lie in the slightest way against the food chopper, which was, of course, an advantage, and there was enough fat in the pan to have made a good gravy if a cup of meat stock had been on hand to use in making it. Before making the gravy it would be necessary, or best, to strain this fat. The mushroom sauce used was made of a cup of cream sauce—actually half cream—and some mushrooms which had been prepared and sliced and gently cooked in butter until the water had started to cook out of them, when they were put away in such a way that the butter which covered the top of the mushrooms was like some potted preparation. Since mushrooms do not keep well, this was done to save some but even prepared this way they do not keep long.

First Performance of Boris Brings Out Brilliant Audience

A brilliant Monday night house greeted the first "Boris," a little late in arriving, but the lights of the first intermission disclosed a box circle rivaling the opening night.

Mrs. Caroline L. Kohl, hostess in the stage box on the right, had Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Ives of Evanston and Miss Louella Ensworth as her guests. Next were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Dee, who entertained Mr. and Mrs. George M. Shirr, Miss Helen Ashley, and Roy H. Robinson. The Rockefeller McCormick box held Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson and Mr. and Mrs. Albert De Wolf Eschke. Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Leight had the Baroness Wenner, B. A. Eckhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Hoesert as their guests.

In the John F. Jelke box were Mr. and Mrs. William Burton, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Yager, and J. G. Skidmore. Mr. and Mrs. Secor Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holoway, and Mr. and Mrs. Augustus S. Peabody were in the D. M. Cummings box. With Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Hasel were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Rehm and Mr. and Mrs. William Monroe. Mrs. Jacob Rapp's guests were Mrs. Herbert Spaulding of Boston, Mrs. Woodbury Melcher, Miss Grace Dixon, James Dudley, and Robert Mooney.

With Mrs. Moses J. Wentworth were Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. Charles C. Adsit, and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Wilson.

Stiff Bosom Comfort.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The stiff bosom shirt is making for itself a much wider circle of acquaintance, for formal and semi-formal day occasions, both because it is more and more recognized as the only satisfactory shirt which will give a neat and trim and smart appearance, and because it has achieved a far greater degree of comfort than it has had of yore.

There is one extremely good looking style of stiff bosom shirt which is as smart as you want and which does not sacrifice the comfort of a negligee shirt. It has a stiff bosom which is long enough to give the stiff bosom effect, and which is short enough not to interfere with comfort, coming just below the top of the vest. Naturally, this is not a shirt that can be worn without a vest, but then no shirt should be. I need hardly mention here that a vestless man is not a well-dressed man.

Another feature of the shirt is the comfortably cut stiff separate collar matching the shirt. It is low enough in the front to be all that can be desired in a comfortable fit. If one wants to substitute at any time a white stiff collar, either wing or turnover, the collar to match may be given a rest. Here let a word of warning be issued, however, a warning which applies to any case where a collar to match is changed "off with a white collar." If the shirt is given many more launderings than the collar, it will fade out more than the collar, and thus an undesirable result will be obtained when collar and shirt are worn together again. The collar would be darker than the shirt, and make the shirt look faded by comparison.

His condition is improving slowly and he is now able to do part time work, but does not earn enough to support his family. He cannot afford to purchase the bedding needed for the winter, as practically all of his wages must go for food for his wife and children. Mr. G. H. Has some one a blanket or comforter to donate?"

Skin Diseases Are Outside the Province of the Beauty Parlor

by Dr. Antoinette Donnelly

Miss X has a skin disease of long standing. Her face breaks out in large blotches and is almost never free from some distressing blemish. She has been taking beauty treatments for two years, but with no noticeable improvement. The beauty doctor tells her hers is an exaggerated case and naturally takes time to remedy, but in time she may hope for its accomplishment. Miss X wonders, under the circumstances, if she had better not go to a skin specialist of the medical profession.

The beauty parlor unquestionably has its place in the affairs of women. We are not knocking it for a minute. It is a godsend for those of us who are inclined to slump when left to our own initiative. Massages are restful, beautifying, and psychological in the way they inspire you to promise better care of yourself in future. Sometimes they succeed in smoothing a wrinkled cheek, massaging away the double chin and toning the flesh, as well as the spirit. In the care of the hair, the beauty parlor is indispensable. Few women can get along without a marcel and a professional clip. And scalp treatments are usually more effective when administered by another.

But there are things a beauty doctor has no right to tackle, things outside her province and belonging in the realm of medicine. There are slight skin imperfections, such as blackheads and enlarged pores, which they can treat. But a skin disease is not within their right to subscribe for. The dermatologist is the one to seek and have diagnosed a skin disease and administer treatment for it. The training of the dermatologist prepares him for the work. This training the beauty doctor has not.

To diagnose disease requires practice, training, a knowledge of physiology, chemistry, and all the other branches that go to make up the education of a well-trained physician. The study cannot be condensed into so short a course as that of the beauty parlor operator.

Serious diseases of the skin are always intricately tied up with the condition of the whole system, so it requires one with full medical knowledge to understand.

The truth is, you find few of our reputable beauty doctors willing to jeopardize their own standard by practicing disease. The honest, sincere, and conscientious operator will advise her patron to seek medical aid. The smart ones, the business ones, since realized the value of honesty, besides, there is enough work which they are perfectly capable of handling so they do not need to infringe on the rights of the medical profession.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

CLARA: A 25 PER CENT SOLUTION of aluminum chloride in distilled water dabbed gently on the parts every other day until three applications have been made will be found helpful for excessive perspiration. Allow the lotion to dry on thoroughly before the clothing is permitted to touch the skin. One application a week thereafter will ward off a recurrence. If itching should occur, it may be overcome by applying cold cream.

ELEANOR: THE HOLLOW IN your cheeks may be due to the loss of teeth or a run down condition. If you have had some teeth extracted and haven't had the spaces filled in, it shows in the face. Your dentist can correct this. But if due to a run down condition you will have to build yourself up. For full instructions send a stamped, addressed envelope.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Dec. 7.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. John

CITY TO WAGE MILK BATTLE IN COURT TODAY

Wants Date Set to Fight Injunction.

Two important steps in the fight to have Chicago's milk come from healthy cows were ordered yesterday by Mayor Dever.

Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch was told to prepare an ordinance similar in effect to those enforced by thirty other Illinois cities—reject milk from tuberculous cows. The ordinance will be submitted to the council tomorrow afternoon, the mayor said.

City Fights Injunction.

Meanwhile a motion of the city to dissolve the downstate injunction against Health Commissioner Bundeisen is to be made this morning before Judge William J. Fulton of Kane county, who granted the petition of a number of dairy farmers to the Dr. Bundeisen's hands.

Mr. Busch will contend that the injunction, preventing Dr. Bundeisen from ordering that all milk coming into Chicago be from tuberculin tested cows and restraining him even from advising the city council on the milk controversy, is based upon an unconstitutional statute, the Shurtliff law.

Dr. Bundeisen was in New York yesterday attending the meeting of the American Public Health association, and urging its members to join in Chicago's fight for clean, safe milk.

Asks Early Hearing.

Judge Fulton is to be asked to set an early date for the argument on dissolving the temporary injunction. First-vice of Assistant Corporation Counsel Leon Hornstein were to wait until February before moving, but the mayor's orders were for expediting the matter.

Following the attitude that the dairymen are not fighting the test but simply asking for time, their counsel, Weymouth Kirkland, addressed Mr. Hornstein, suggesting an agreement. The city's reply was that Dr. Bundeisen doubted that he had any compromise to offer.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Fred B. Crosby, who died at his home, 2614 Eastwood avenue, Evanston, on Saturday. Burial was in Rosehill cemetery. Mr. Crosby was 57 years old and was a former official of the Toledo Metal Wheel company, Toledo.

He rarely missed a day in this public service and soon became known as the "bishop of Wall street." Mr. Wilkinson was 77 years old. A long time ago he had much preaching among the jumbo jacks in Minnesota.

AN BASKET LEAGUE
33: Washington, 57.

WEEK READY TO EXCHANGE COIN FOR IVORY TODAY

His Bank Roll Big Topic
as Majors Gather.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
New York, Dec. 2.—[Special.]—With the major league managers and the usual camp followers tapered off in their training today for the formal start of the winter league, what have you competition.
The final training consisted of standing on one foot and then on the other while listening to some lowly nourished fellow bemoan the large amount of money that Red Grange is scooping off the public.

The only casualties reported after the last rehearsal were a few men arches that already had been injured by years of service on stone benches.

Jack There with Bank Roll.
In spite of the keen competition caused by the presence of a gallant army of baseball folks, our William "The Cub" is the center of considerable attention. He has that William Wrigley bankroll in his pocket and plenty of people are willing to sell him anything. The Cub boss, however, is not spending the money of others without exercising due caution, and he wished the minor league vendors to come tonight and informed them he might buy ivory on the hoof tomorrow.

McCarthy, the new Cub boss, will be over from Philadelphia in the morning, and as soon as he gives his kick to a couple of transactions some thing will be announced. One announcement probably will cover the signing of Shortstop Shannon of the Louisville club. There is one other bidder in view, but so far nobody has learned the identity of the fellow. The name of the new Cub coach also remains a matter of mystery.

National Meets Today.
The major circuit delegates did their conversing today in the lobby of the Commodore hotel where the National league was going through the motions of giving President John C. Conway a job for five more years. Tomorrow the scene will shift to the Waldorf-Astoria where the National league will gather to pat each other on the back for the successes enjoyed during the last season.

So far as is known the National league will discuss nothing of greater importance than the early closing of next fall.

CARDINALS WILL MEET HAMMOND TEAM SATURDAY

With a chance to tie for the pro league title with Pottsville, Manager Chris O'Brien announced last night that the Cardinals will play Hammond at Comiskey park Saturday afternoon at 2:15. Hammond holds a victory over the Cards, having defeated them early this season, and Paddy Driscoll's men are anxious to even the count.

Victory will not only tie up the league lead again, but will give the Cards an equal claim to Pottsville in playing the Bears here Dec. 20, according to O'Brien. Hammond, while suspended part of the season, will rejoin a list of stars for the battle Saturday.

Purple Cagers Bolstered by Three 'N' Men

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Jack Benefiel of the University of Oregon, defeated by the Pacific coast conference to choose an eastern or southern opponent to meet one of the strong coast teams in the east-west game at Pasadena, Cal., on New Year's day, yesterday announced that the University of Alabama, southern conference champion for the last two years, has accepted the invitation.

The Oregon representative returned here tonight by Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager of U. S. C. The first of the two games will be played in Los Angeles Dec. 4 next year, while the Southern California team will go east the following year. The second game probably will be played on Thanksgiving day.

Coast Fox Undecided.
Benefiel stated further that Washington, champion of the Pacific Coast conference, has not been asked to meet Alabama. In fact, no coast eleven has been invited, the matter resting entirely with the faculty committee of the Pacific Coast conference. A wire vote of the professors will be taken immediately, and Alabama's opponent announced by Prof. H. C. Howe of Oregon, president of the coast conference.

Selection of Alabama for the east-west game is the first time a team from south of the Mason and Dixon line has been chosen for this classic. This series of struggles started back in 1916, when Brown and Washington engaged in the first struggle promoted by the football committee of the tournament of roses.

Alabama Grid Record.
An idea of Alabama's strength may be gathered from the fact it defeated Kentucky, 31 to 0; Florida, 34 to 0; Georgia, 27 to 0; Georgia Tech, 7 to 0; Mississippi Aggies, 6 to 0; Sewanee, 27 to 0; and Louisiana State, 42 to 0.

According to Benefiel, the Alabama squad will leave Tuscaloosa, Ala., about Dec. 20 and will go direct to Pasadena.

Issue Entry Blanks for Season's First Ice Meet

Entry blanks are out for the first ice skating meet of the season to be held by the Lake Shore Skating club on Sunday, Dec. 27, at the club rink, Clarendon and Leland avenues.

Edward A. Mahike and Otis J. Taylor of Western Skating association have also arranged a carnival and fancy skating exhibition in connection with the race meet.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 2.—[Special.]—Michigan is pleased with the football schedule for 1926, by which it plays two games with the University of Minnesota. Fleiding H. Yost, director of athletics, commented today. He said he believes the schedule will stand unchanged.

Gophers Think Big Ten Grid Card to Stand

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 2.—[Special.]—University of Minnesota athletic officials today went forward with plans to complete their 1926 football schedule while awaiting the decision of Northwestern university officials on adjustments in the booking which would eliminate the double headers between the Gophers and Michigan and Northwestern and Indiana.

While apparently desirous of seeing the alterations made in the bookings as drawn at Chicago, Saturday, so that Indiana could be substituted for Michigan for the fourth Big Ten contest, Athletic Director Fred W. Luehring and Coach Clarence W. Spears of Minnesota, held out little hope for the changes and proceeded to complete the eight game schedule on the assumption that the present line up of contests will stand.

Question Over N. D. Date.
There is still some doubt in the original arrangement of contests where Notre Dame will fit into the 1926 Gopher schedule, it was pointed out, but this understanding is expected to be cleared up in a day or two. Northwestern and Minnesota have Notre Dame appearing on their schedules for the Oct. 23 date, but it is said that Route Rockne assured Dr. Spears at the Chicago meeting, Minnesota can have that date if it desires. There is a possibility, however, that Notre Dame will be shifted to October 9, the second contest of the season.

Football Perils Mentality of Players, Psychiatrist Says

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 2.—[Special.]—Football today is a menace to the mental and physical well being of the players. In the opinion of Dr. Stewart Paton, psychiatrist and author, member of the Princeton university faculty and trustee of the Carnegie institute at Washington.

A national football hysteria is causing players to be "slaughtered to make a Roman holiday," he said. Dr. Paton's views were called forth by the current controversy, which resulted yesterday in the recommendation adopted by the student conference at Wesleyan university, that football games be limited to four; a graduate coaching system on a professor's salary basis be adopted and no directions from coaches during the games be permitted—were praised by Dr. Paton.

"These recommendations seem to me excellent," he said. "I believe that left to themselves the students will settle the question properly—the students have more sense on the football question than the alumni."

"The students at this conference have considered the question from a scholastic angle, claiming that football is leaving no time for education. To me the root of the evil lies far deeper, and is concerned with the actual effect of the game on the mental life of the players and of the whole student body supporting them."

"Further, the organized support for the team called for from the whole student body is beginning to have its effect in lowering the mental life of American universities to the dead level of mediocrity."

SKY LAWS BLUR IF INVESTMENT BANKER HAS SAY

National Association for Bolstering State Acts.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Dec. 7.—[Special.]—The Investment Bankers of America will go on record within the next day or so as favoring a blue sky law with teeth in it for every state in the Union.

This vital problem was thrashed out today in a meeting of the board of governors of their association holding their annual convention here. There was spirited debate as bankers representing particular districts advocated this change or that, but generally the proposal for a new and uniform law sufficiently strong to nip in the bud all questionable offerings met with universal favor.

The investment bankers are opposed to federal control of security issues and to any sort of domination or supervision by the federal government, but those assembled here, who represent some which handle approximately 85 per cent of the new issues of bonds and stocks of record each year, are agreed that fancy promises and dreams of wealth for the investor should have no part in their operations and that investment bankers themselves should handle the problem and strive for a blue sky law.

Chicagoan Heads Committee.
A committee to put "teeth" into the blue sky laws of the country is headed by Barrett Wendell Jr. of Lee, Higginson & Co. of Chicago. Other members are George W. Hodges of Remick, Hodges & Co., New York; Roy C. Osgood of the Flat Trust and Savings bank, Chicago; William L. Rose of William L. Rose & Co., Chicago; George F. Van Riper of New York, and Eli T. Watson of Watson & Williams company, New Orleans.

Thus far the investment bankers have merely surveyed the field of "real estate booms," as typified by the Florida rise in prices now in progress. They are known to be keenly interested and those who could be induced to discuss the subject expressed alarm at the amount of money being withdrawn from investment in the eastern and middle western states and plunged in speculative ventures in Florida. It is not probable, however, that the bankers will take any action about this problem.

To Name Morris President.

Ray Morris of Brown Brothers & Co., New York, will be elected president of the Investment Bankers tomorrow.

United for vice presidents are Arthur Gilbert, Chicago; Philip Jewell, Boston; T. K. Smith, St. Louis; J. W. Mc Gregor, Pittsburgh, and E. T. Watson, New Orleans. Frederick R. Fenton and Frank M. Gerdorf of Chicago are scheduled for secretary and treasurer respectively.

YANKS DESPISE DRY LAW, NOTED DOCTOR STATES

LONDON, Dec. 7.—[U. N. J.]—America has saved great Britain from the ridiculous force of prohibition, according to Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, the most eminent consulting surgeon in England, who has just returned from his tenth visit to the United States.

Sir William found liquor plentiful, and much of it poisonous. He was astonished to find more drunks on the streets in prohibition America than in wet England. From a medical standpoint he condemns prohibition because it puts in the mouths of the poor liquor which drives them mad. He says Americans despise the law.

"Prohibition is a force which cannot continue," said Sir William, basing his opinion on discussion with American medical men and his own observation. "The American people are extraordinarily intelligent, and I believe that the public's common sense will force a change in the law, probably a compromise whereby the sale of wines and beer would be legalized. A law which the people despise and which makes respectable people law breakers cannot be a good law."

ITALY AND EGYPT REACH ACCORD-ON JARABUB OASIS

ROME, Dec. 7.—An accord has been signed at Cairo between Egypt and Italy whereby the latter obtains the oasis of Jarabub and other territory in Cyrenaica, or Italian Tripoli, of importance as military bases dominating the country. Egypt receives concessions in the Gulf of Suez. Although it is not announced what the concessions are, the Egyptian frontier will extend to the coast to include Ramia.

The agreement ends the last colonial international question confronting Italy following the war. The others, Jubaland and the Dodecanese, were settled last year.

The agreement is of great political importance, not only because from the new bases Italy can dominate the Suez canal, but because it interferes with the French dream of a railroad from Lake Chad to Alexandria.

SYRIAN REBELS ATTACK AS REPLY TO PEACE OFFER

BEIRUT, Syria, Dec. 7.—The answer of the rebels to the declaration of M. Jouvenel, the new high commissioner, that peace or war lies with them, was a new attack on Damascus. Some of the Druses tried to enter Kadem, a suburb, and Fort Gouraud, and other batteries fired on them in the morning. Airplanes bombed and machine guns raked them effectively. The rebels left ninety dead on the field, according to tonight's communique. There was the usual panic among the population, which evacuated the Melan sector and retired into the Christian quarter.

EVENING JOURNAL

NEW YORK
DECEMBER 3, 1925

New York Evening Journal Net Paid Circulation 682,313

Circulation Means Power. The Evening Journal Has Much More Than Double the Circulation of Any Other Evening Newspaper in New York

The average daily, net paid, circulation of the Evening Journal throughout November was 682,313

This interests the great family of Evening Journal readers, constantly GROWING. The greater the number of readers, the greater the influence and power for good combined in one reading group.

The Evening Journal circulation, steadily GROWING, interests business men, whose announcements through the Evening Journal cover and blanket Greater New York and the nearby suburbs.

The Evening Journal, selling an average of 682,313

daily at three cents, has far more than double the circulation of any one of its competitors in New York's evening newspaper field.

It is CIRCULATION THAT COUNTS. The influence of a newspaper, the power of its group of readers, and the intensity of service that a newspaper can render to the business community, advertisers, and others, depend upon circulation. There is no substitute for it. "Nothing succeeds like circulation."

"Comparisons are odious," especially to those that supply the SMALL circulation figures in the comparisons. In all kindness, and with due respect for the achievements of our contemporaries and competitors, we call attention to certain DIFFERENCES.

There are three evening newspapers in New York City that may be said to count in the field of substantial circulations. They are the Evening World, the Sun and the Telegram.

For purposes of comparison, we take the circulation figures most recently supplied by each of these newspapers to the Government, and assume that increase in Evening Journal circulation has not meant loss of circulation to any one of its competitors.

To get the circulation of the Evening Journal, multiply the circulation of the Evening World by two and add 58,447.

Or multiply the circulation of the Evening Sun by two and add 169,845—then you have the EVENING JOURNAL circulation.

Or multiply the circulation of the Evening Telegram by THREE, add 83,615, then you have the circulation of the Evening Journal.

In other words, the circulation of the Evening Journal is 100 per cent greater than that of the Evening World, plus 58,447. It is 100 per cent greater than that of the Sun, plus 169,845; three times greater than that of the Evening Telegram, plus 83,615.

THAT IS WHAT YOU MIGHT CALL CIRCULATION SUPREMACY IN THE EVENING NEWSPAPER FIELD OF NEW YORK CITY.

But mere circulation figures do not tell the story completely or give to merchants the fact that interests them most.

There is no DUPLICATE circulation in the Evening Journal's daily net paid average of 682,313

Each line of space in a copy of the Evening Journal, purchased by a merchant, goes TO A DIFFERENT BUYER and to a different FAMILY.

In dealing with the Evening Journal you know that you deal on a daily average with 682,313 SEPARATE BUYING UNITS.

Every business man knows that newspapers, specializing, for instance, in Wall Street information, rather than in general human interests, are bought two or three at a time. That is DUPLICATE circulation and means WASTE IN ADVERTISING.

Every intelligent merchant knows that it is not wise to send three messages to the same address, but rather to spend money sending the same message TO THREE DIFFERENT ADDRESSES.

Every advertiser can easily learn for himself that the Evening Journal GOES HOME.

Let a business man assign a few clerks to the task of picking up newspapers dropped in the subways, surface cars and elevated railroads.

The clerks will come back with a collection of newspapers that have been bought, two or three at a time, to read the financial news and then dropped. The clerks will not bring back ANY Evening Journals, BECAUSE THEY GO HOME.

What the TOTAL reading family of the Evening Journal may be can, of course, only be guessed, it cannot be proved.

It is certain that a paper taken into the homes is read on the average by four members of a family. But put the average as low as three, and the number of Evening Journal readers exceeds 2,000,000.

One thing is certain, and NOT a matter of guesswork. For every one hundred evening newspapers sold in New York, MORE THAN FORTY ARE EVENING JOURNALS.

And the Evening Journal is growing. The circulation for every day in November, net paid, averaged 682,313, the average net paid daily circulation for the week ending last Saturday was

702,624

But this circulation does not satisfy the Evening Journal, it does not intend to remain content with it.

Those in charge of the mechanical, circulation and editorial departments intend that the Evening Journal, now more than 100 per cent ahead of any competitor, shall be more than 200 and 300 per cent ahead.

New plants are being built, more than one million dollars worth of new presses have been ordered for the exclusive use of the Evening Journal.

Meanwhile, to beat all your evening newspaper competitors by more than 100 per cent, is at least a START in the right direction.

SYNDICATE BUYS 1,010 ACRE TRACT IN WILL COUNTY

BY AL CHASE.

A tract of 1,010 acres in the north end of Will county, just across the Cook county line, between Steger and Crest, was purchased yesterday by a syndicate headed by Julius S. Singer, in cooperation with the law firm of Allen, Cohen and Philip S. Levi. The consideration was not disclosed.

The holdings just acquired are just south of Steger, extending along the highway to Crest, being bounded on the east by Cottage Grove avenue. The northern boundary is the Cook county line highway. The Joliet-Crest highway is the boundary on the south.

Plans for Polo and Golf. The syndicate's plans call for the setting aside of 200 acres for a golf course and polo fields. The remainder of the property will be placed on the market in parcels of from five to twenty acres to be developed as country estates. Part of the property is wooded and the balance cleared rolling land.

Albert Greshy and Mardie R. Plothe have sold the thirty apartments and garage at $13-21 Washington street, Bryn Mawr, to Ruth Shapiro for $100,000, subject to an incumbrance of $100,000, according to the county records.

Reigning Somebody's Pardon. Last Saturday we reported the sale of the thirty-eight flats at the northeast corner of Dearborn parkway and Sawyer street by A. L. Himeblau and Fannie Singer to Morris and Joseph Kupersmith for $115,000, subject to $25,000. The figures supplied were supposed to be correct. Yesterday Samuel H. Rosenthal, attorney for the buyers, stated that the sale was $100,000.

Michael Reppert has bought the north-west corner of Austin avenue and Cass street, $101,000, improved with an old four-story brick warehouse under lease to the Reppert Refrigerating company, for a reported $75,000, or at the rate of $15 per square foot, disregarding the building. William D. Kerfoot & Co. were the only bidders.

The Joseph Klucka company, moldings, now at 1835 South Washington avenue, has sold its former plant at the southeast corner of California avenue and the Chicago and Quincy railroad right of way to Herman H. Newberger, owner of the Royal Knitting mills, which have occupied the three-story building for more than two years.

Unusual bond needs are the usual thing

"I follow a definite investment plan," said a New England capitalist; "70% of my funds are in common stocks, 20% in bonds, and 10% in cash. Is this good balance?"

The obvious answer is that so large a holding of stocks is too risky for a sound investment policy. Compton representatives do not make obvious answers. Upon analysis it was found that this investor's needs were unusual, and no change was recommended in his policy.

Yours is an unusual investment case. No two men have the same investment needs. The Compton thirty-eight-year-old policy is to help you invest to suit your own personal requirements. A Compton salesman will be glad to help you better your investment position.

Business IS Good in Boston!

Here Is Proof!

Statistics show that general business is always good in any city where Newspaper Advertising shows consistent increases; and that a decline in newspaper advertising is invariably followed by poor business.

The total net increase in lineage in Boston Newspapers for 11 months of 1925 was

3,088,836 lines

The total gain was distributed as follows:

HERALD Gain 1,774,796 lines

Advertisers Recognize Divided Market

It is only natural, therefore, that the Herald-Traveler is credited with an overpowering influence as shown by its great percentage of advertising growth.

Boston is divided into two great population groups. These two groups are so different in tastes and opinions that no newspaper can hope to appeal to both.

To reach one of these Boston groups you have a choice of several good newspapers.

The other great group is covered by the Herald-Traveler and by the Herald-Traveler alone.

Don't overlook the buying power of Boston. It is booming with new prosperity. And when you make your advertising plans for Boston, remember it's a two market town. Our book, "Business Boston," explains this unique situation in detail. A request on your business stationery will bring it to you, free and promptly.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Monday, Dec. 7, 1925. Total, 1925, 12,945,292. Previous year, 9,814,409.

Chicago stocks were generally strong in the week's opening session yesterday. Electrical Research Laboratories gained 2 points, to 31, and advances of 1 1/2 each were made by Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad and Montgomery Ward. United Biscuit moved up 1/4. Bankers identified with the company have it that net profits after charges will be about $600,000 for 1925, compared with $460,715 in 1924. Total current assets are $978,684, compared with total current liabilities of $181,116. Wahl and La Salle Extension University were up a point each and All-American Radio advanced 1/2. National Electric Power gained 1/2 and Stewart-Warner and Real Silk Hosiery advanced 1/4 each. Armour B was up 1/4.

Hurley dropped 2 1/2, to 53 1/2, in reflection of the announcement that directors have called a meeting of stockholders to double the number of common shares. Nothing in the announcement indicates on what basis the present shares are to be exchanged, but indications are that the stock will be given on a three for one basis, the company retaining some for public offering. Gossard was 1/2 lower and Union Carbide lost 1/4. On small sales, Chicago Title and Trust was a feature, jumping 20 points to 500. American Shipbuilding advanced a point. Midland Steel Products declined a point.

NEW CONGRESS
FINDS WELCOME
AMONG BANKERS

BY O. A. MATHER.

For the first time in years the convening of congress yesterday was a welcome event in the financial world. The general hope and belief that it will be a "business congress," marked by much constructive legislation, was heightened by the tenor of President Coolidge's address in Chicago.

Presentations of the $25,000,000 tax reduction bill on the opening day of the session and announcement that it would afford the maximum benefit to every class of taxpayers created a general feeling of satisfaction. This sentiment was deepened later in the day when President Coolidge's review of the agricultural situation and his proposed remedies were discussed. Furthermore, the President is expected to make a thoroughly helpful address before congress today.

Price Fixing Stopped.

Financiers and business men welcomed as sound policy President Coolidge's unqualified opposition to any government price fixing measures for agricultural products. There was general agreement with the President's optimism regarding farming, based on increasing food consumption and the shift of population to the cities.

While bankers do not believe cooperative marketing is a panacea for all agricultural ills, they believe it will solve many present problems and that further assistance will be given by adoption of the farmer makes uniformly a reputation of unjustified demands that have marked recent sessions.

Expert Aid for Railroads.

This congress is expected to enact legislation helpful to the railroads, especially along the lines of permitting voluntary and economic consolidations. This feeling was translated in the stock market yesterday in heavy buying of railroad shares and advancing prices in contrast to the usual dullness and reaction at the opening of a new congress.

This feeling was bolstered by the remarkable summary of railroad earnings for October, published in the morning. It showed the largest net revenue for any month in American railroad history, although not the largest gross receipts.

The aggregate net operating income of class 1 roads was $137,699,987, an increase of $10,504,897 over October, 1924, which was partly due to a decline of $2,850,000 in maintenance expenses.

Operating Income Increases.

For the ten months ended Oct. 31 net operating income was $935,047,505, an increase of $128,382,001 over the same period last year. This result was accomplished despite the fact that gross revenues increased only $135,345,967 and operating expenses increased $5,297,075.

The increase in net income was attributed to the 5.7 per cent increase in freight traffic and to greater efficiency and economy in operating, resulting chiefly from the large capital expenditures that have been made since 1922. October earnings, however, represented an annual rate of return of only 5.23 per cent on the railroad property investment figures, while earnings for the ten months this year were equivalent to a return of only 4.83 per cent. The southern roads show a return of 6.06 per cent, the eastern lines 5.21 per cent, and the western carriers 4.01 per cent.
